Presenting

Alma Mater, now and ever, may we raise our song to thee. Every son and every daughter pledging love and loyalty.

When at last we leave thy portals, when in devious paths we stray,
make thy light to shine upon us, showing us
the perfect way.

FOREWORD

Our lives—the stairways we complete;
Each day—the step we have to meet...

Each day for four years, the 1955 seniors have moved toward graduation by taking merely one step at a time. Then, too, this book was assembled by the staff step by step. On occasions, we found ourselves walking up a blind alley and had to make an about-face. Moreover, we have often missed a step and have had to catch ourselves. On the whole, however, we have enjoyed the journey.

As you go through these pages, we request you to examine each picture, read each caption, keeping in mind that the book itself is both a step back in memory and a most important one ahead, for those fortunate seniors of 1955 whose high school route passed through South Hills.

Our Country Our School

ADMINISTRATION

'Wisdom that may guide

Always, at each turn in the road winding through South Hills, we find our principal, Mr. Fred W. Glaser, ready to lend a helping hand, in the form of a humorous observation here, a prod forward there, words of encouragement or wise advice everywhere they are needed.

In the picture above, Mr. Glaser confers with three of the February senior officers: George Cinquegrane, Mark Moore, and Ben Brenner.

John M. McLaughlin
Vice-Principal

our youth''

Dr. John McLaughlin, South Hills' vice-principal, busy man that he is, is always ready to stretch out the helping hand. We rely upon his firm, wise guidance. Here he directs three members of the Service Squad, Jack Thomas, Thomas Hinsch, and Charles Cook.

Miss Marjorie Siedle, our counselor, confers with Mrs. McGavern, Nancy's mother. More often, the conference is between the counselor and the student. Miss Siedle has steered us past many blind alleys.

Any ninth grade pupil gets off to a flying start if she consults Mrs. Marguerite Pritchard, the girls' adviser. Naturally, when one gets to be a senior, like Janet Weiss, the thing to do is to ask Mrs. Pritchard.

A close friend of every South Hills student, Mr. Andrew Chuska, our activities director, performs so many countless tasks each day that we often wonder how he gets them all done. Sometimes the faculty mail boxes help.

Efficient Miss Irma Griffiths, our bookclerk, has all kinds of knowledge right at her fingertips. With the help of her able bookroom assistants, she keeps our supplies and books in apple pie order.

"Books, Brains, Brawn"

The brawn in our bookroom is furnished by Gerald Justh and Andy Pyros.

Everyone meets Miss Alta Becker, our school nurse, sooner or later. With the help of the doctor, she sees that our health is up to par. "Perfectly normal," she assures Carl Prince, who sits for his temperature-taking (right).

MR. GOURLEY

Mr. James E. Gourley, sponsor of the class, is both counselor and friend. He always believes the best of us. Perhaps his scientific training has lead him to accept the philosophy that nothing is ever lost; it simply changes form. So far as Mr. Gourley is concerned, possibilities in every freshman are unlimited. As seniors, we have learned to appreciate our sponsor's faith in us. May we never let him down.

Mid-Year Seniors

June Seniors

When we entered South Hills as freshmen, Miss Elsie M. Murphy came too, and considered herself a freshman with us. (Of course, this was true in name only.) She has always understood our need for support and encouragement. In fact, she often catches us before we fall. A superior English teacher, our sponsor has taught us more than English, to enjoy our school experiences, both the rough and the smooth.

OUT

Language

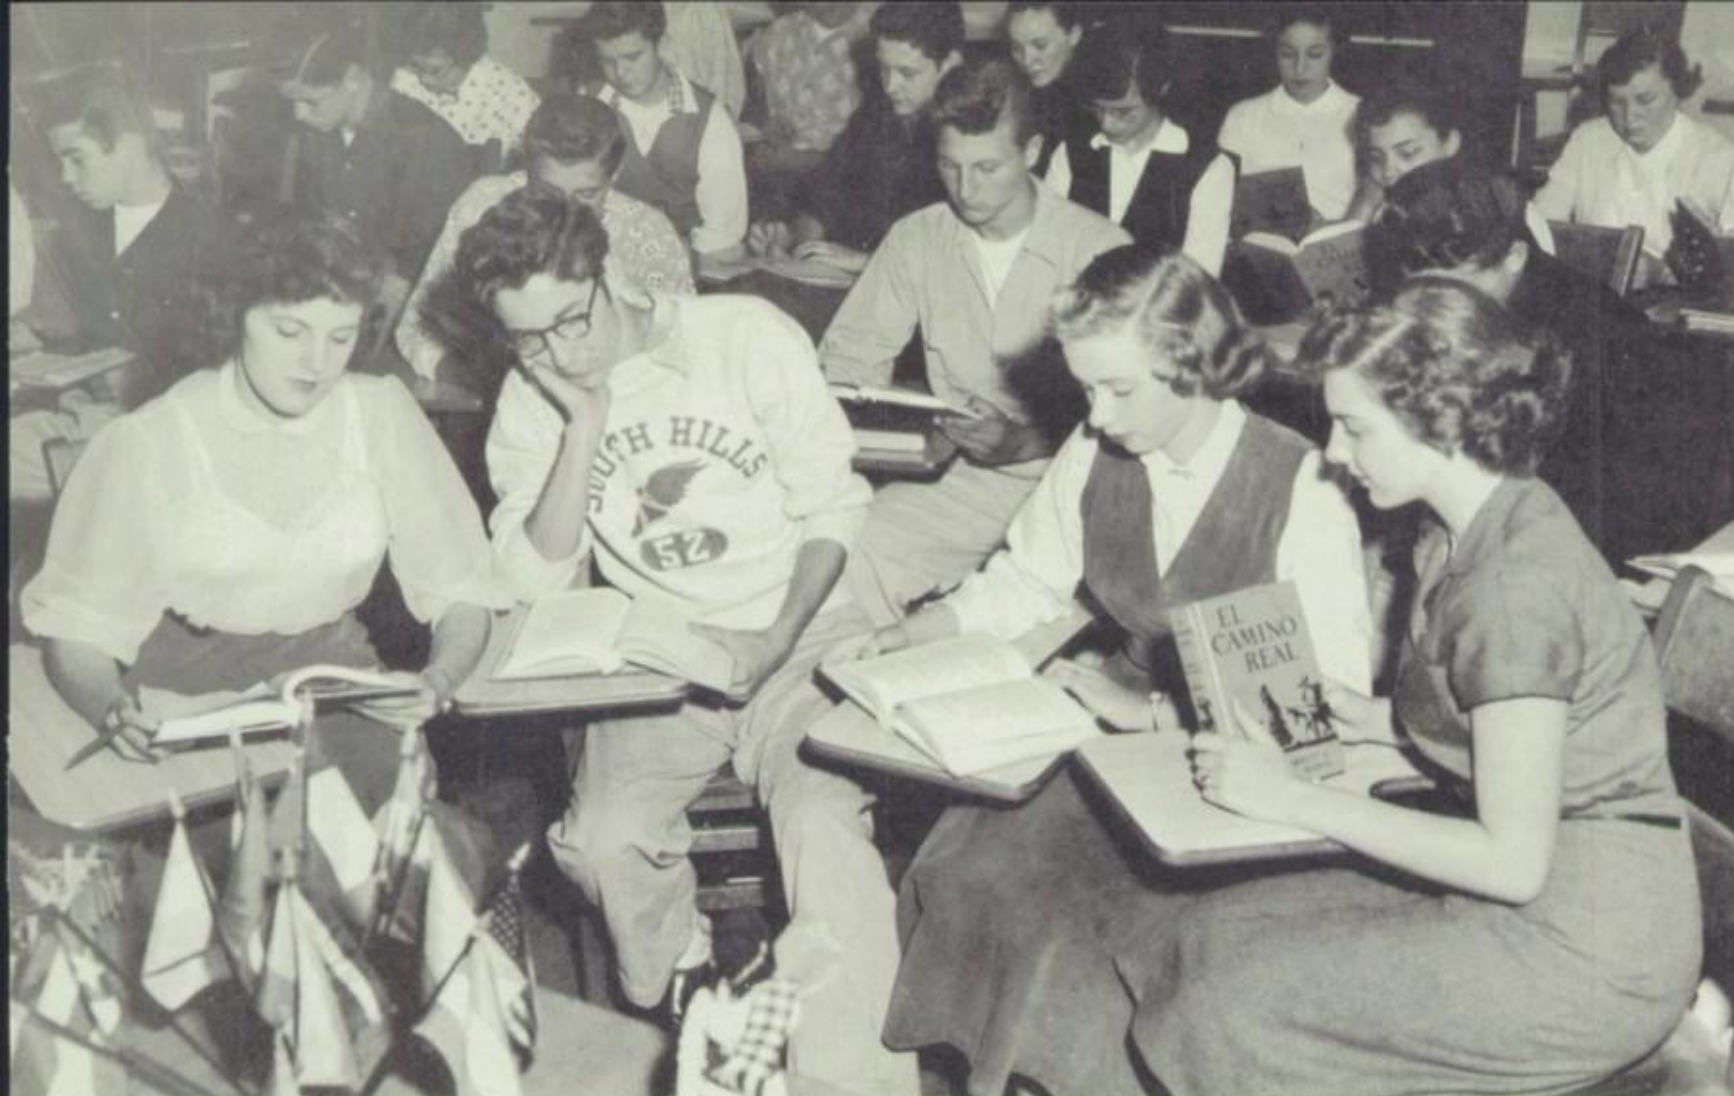

One of the most beautiful rooms in the school is the library. Clara Lou Williams and Cathie Rounds are frequent visitors here. They are shown admiring a plant display and examining one of the numerous books which tell about this wonderful old world of ours.

Note the intent look on the faces of Robert Baxendell and Ann Marie Poploski as they practice their spelling and the rules of letter writing in Miss Mary Power's 10B English group.

"Watch out, Caesar," we might well advise Alvin Voigt, who represents the great Dictator in a scene from "Julius Caesar", as enacted in Miss Elsie Murphy's 10 A English class. The conspirators are Barbara Martin, Zelma Garland, Harold Heidkamp, Clifford Morrell, Robert Murano, and Robert Ebitz.

Edison Pastor, the lad in the South Hills sweater, takes a daily flight into Spain with the other advanced Spanish students in his group, via Miss Mathilda Meyer's classroom and "El Camino Real".

Three Tongues

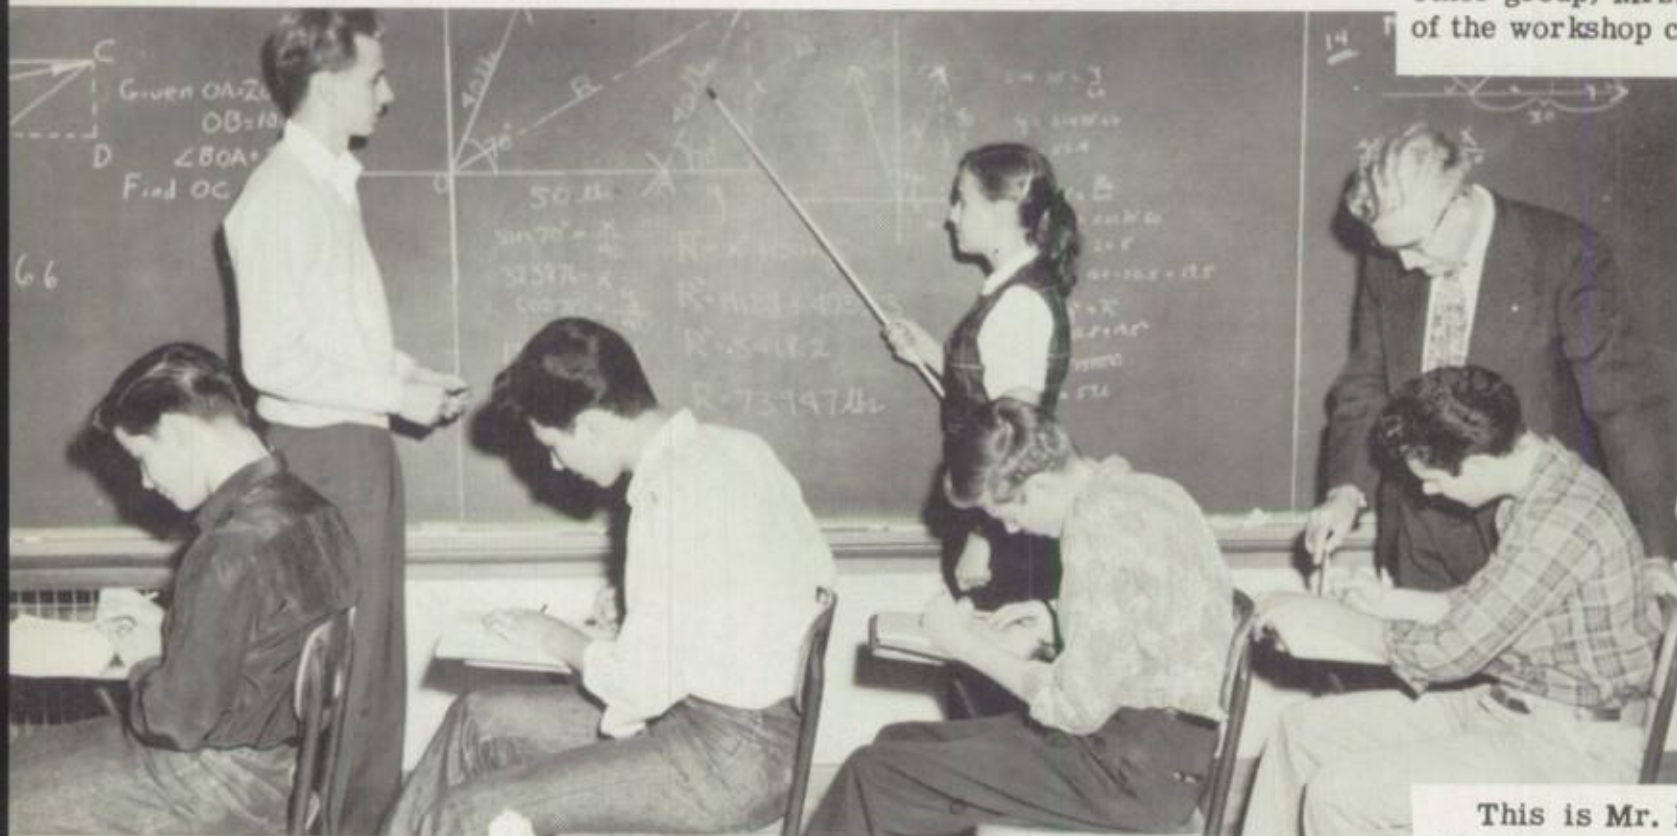

Hallowe'en ghosts? Not at all; these cute little numbers are Roman togas worn by Vincent Graner and Lee Noble, in a skit being enacted in an advanced Latin class, which is taught by Mrs. Frances Thompson.

Mathematics

Warren Ashburn of the student leader section explains an equation to his Algebra 1 class. The members are arranged in a help-each-other group, Mrs. Bonsall's version of the workshop class procedure.

This is Mr. Horner's trigonometry class. The subject is a "tricky" one, which calls for concentrated thought.

Did you know that a sphere can be circumscribed about a tetrahedron? This is the problem that Brandon Vestal proves to a very attentive fourth period solid geometry group. Mr. Crowley is the teacher.

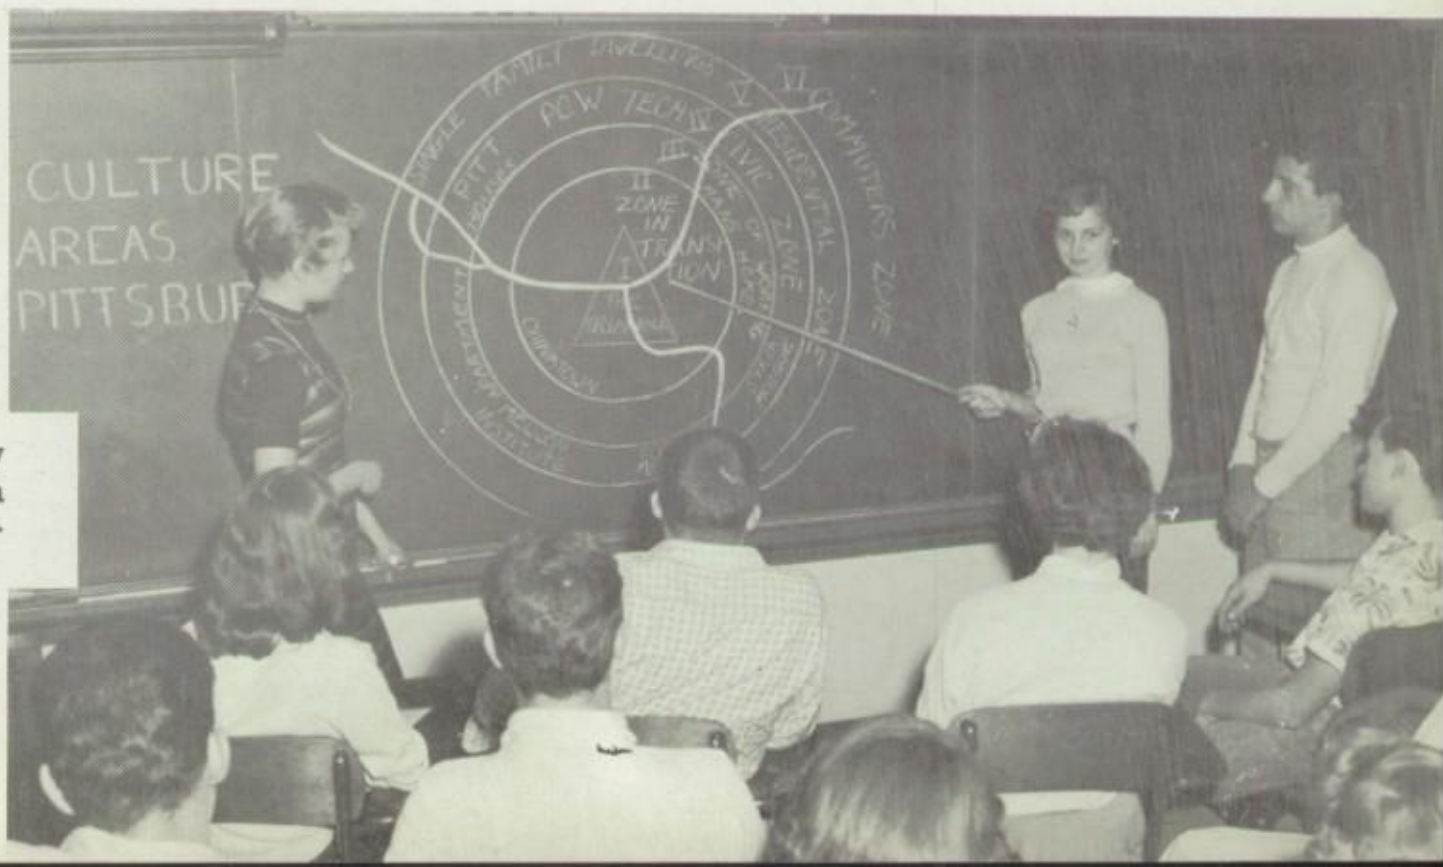

History

Miss Frieda Yetter shows the gloves of Greek architecture to tenth-grade pupils in a world history class.

Crime definitely does not pay in Mr. John Patton's American Government class. Here, Bailiff Larry Gorman swears in Witness, Fiore Demarco as the trial gets underway.

In Miss Ann Cameron's sociology group, Barbara Keating points to a map of cultural centers in Pittsburgh.

upperclassmen

The 12B's will be actually getting somewhere by next September, right up front in that superior band of South Hills students known as upper classmen. The very next graduation and prom and class day and yearbook will be theirs.

12B's

The 11A class officers are: Mr. Figler, the sponsor; Dave Johnston, 409, president; Pat Botula, 412, vice-president; Lois Velan, 412, secretary; Maureen Carr, 311, treasurer.

Charlee Jenkins, Jack Jackanic, Bill Harrison, and Nancy Hayes, are students of Mr. Gourley's General Science class.

In the bubbling test-tube of the Chemistry 2 class, Tom Bailey and Jim Knerr take over the experiment demonstration.

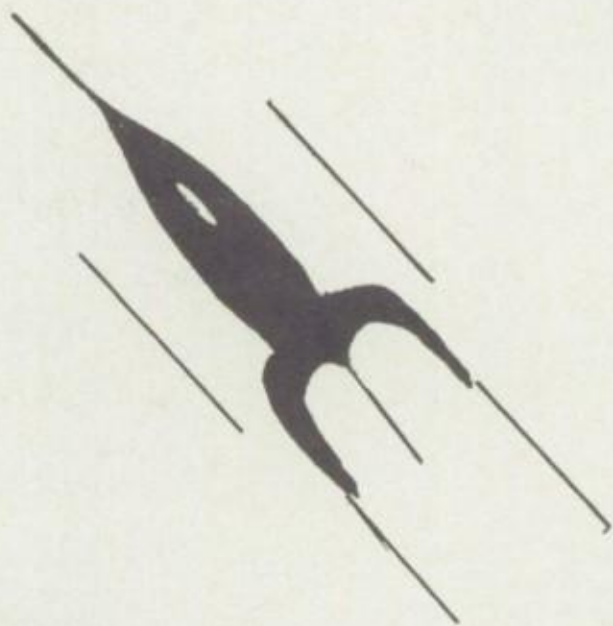

Don Davies eagerly explains the function of a dry cell battery to the attentive ears of Mr. Rankin's Physics 2 group.

TO UNKNOWN WORLDS

Betty Jane Bonnar admires the mums grown in the South Hills conservatory under the expert and loving care of Miss Rome.

Gazing wonderingly into an unknown microscopic world is Evelyn Harman. Perhaps she may find an ameba, or even an euglena!

Business

Carol Moffat, a member of Mr. Robertson's advanced bookkeeping class, is looking for a three-cent error. Good luck, Carol.

Mr. Freed's consumer's education class is studying the subject of fresh fruits and vegetables. The group, from left to right, includes Mary Jean Kerr, Loretta Hancock, Sally Lester, Carl Bahneman, Jack Gualtieri; in the foreground, Arthur Chilcott and Michael Carilli.

Carol May, Dr. John Straitiff's shorthand student, demonstrates the day's lesson.

Crafts

In the senior crafts class, Miss Agnes Bittaker explains the art of soldering to Robert Pitschman, Tom Nixon, and Robert Potts.

Those working on individual projects are Tom Connelly, Lynn Noah, Betty Schrenk, Ronald Corbett, Tony Moreno, Erma Ginniven, George Nestler, Dick White, Mary Kramer, Mary O'Toole, and Jim Ryan.

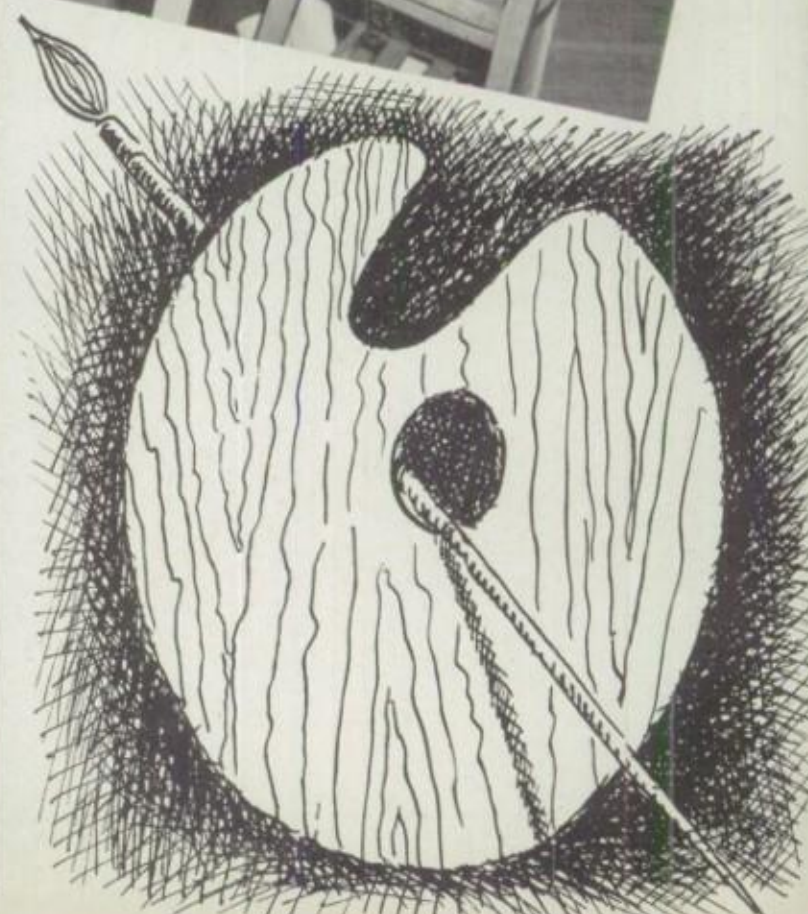

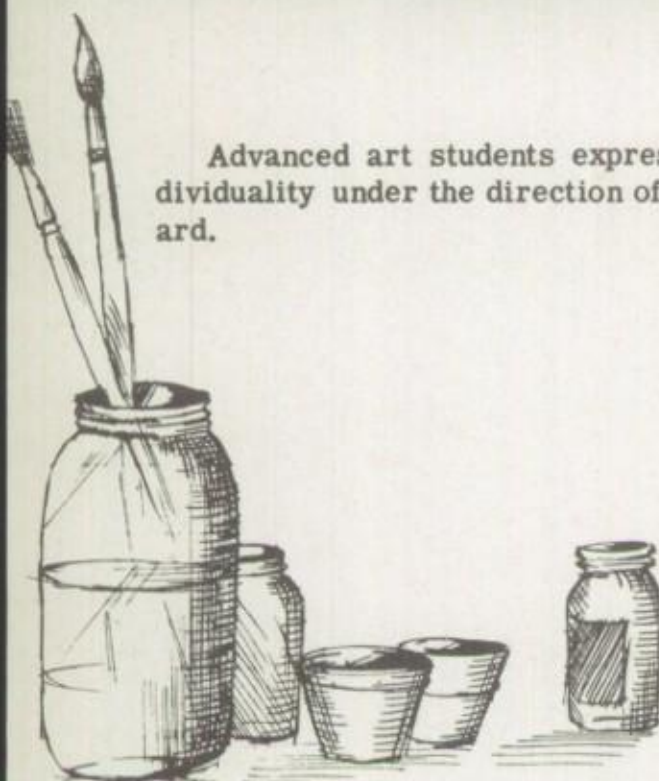

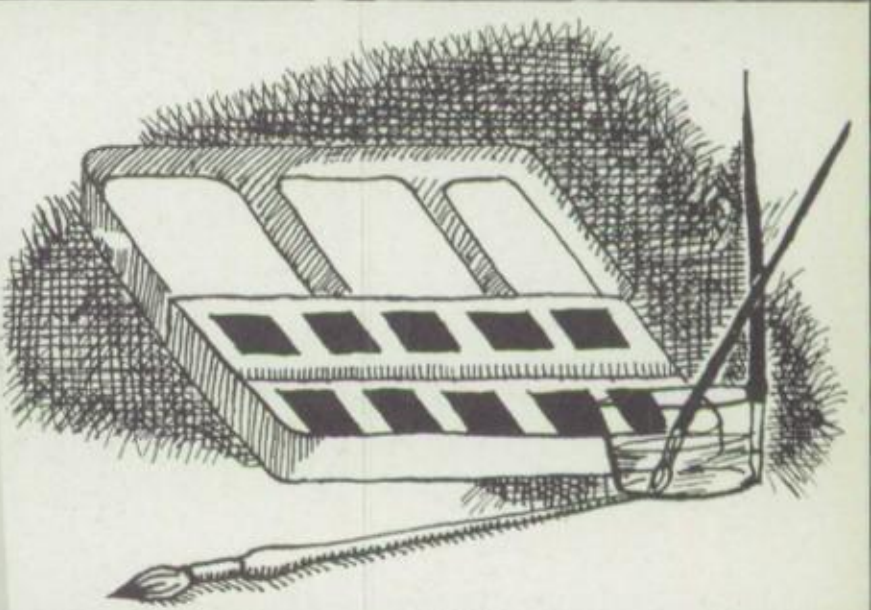

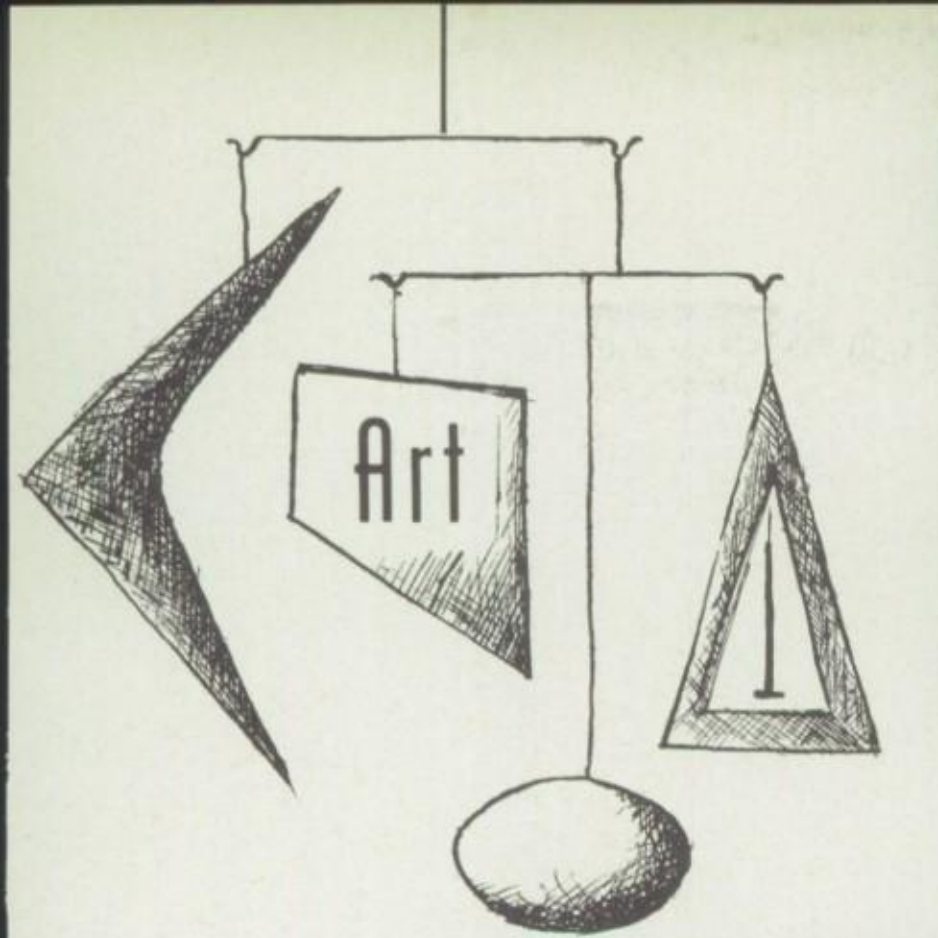

Miss Freda Neugebauer shows George Parlomas how to use the wire recorder in this fifth period speech improvement class. The others in the group are Grace Wallace, Barbara Russel, and Egan Klatt.

Speech

Advanced art students express their individuality under the direction of Miss Dollard.

upperclassmen

All 11B's step lively these days. They have reached the landing which is the halfway mark on the stairs. Their glance ahead may show them a long, hard climb, but actually the steps get easier at the top. About May of the last semester, one actually floats.

11B's

Some fellow always has all the luck. Here we have the Case of the Twin Brothers. Note that Kenneth (or is it Keith?), with the brunette in the case, Carolyn Donatelli of 220, refuses to go to the rescue of Brother Keith (or is it Kenneth?), who has become involved in a slight accident. And both started up those steps on exactly equal terms, or did they? But life brings changes. Next time maybe Keith (or Kenneth) will be lucky.

Cooking

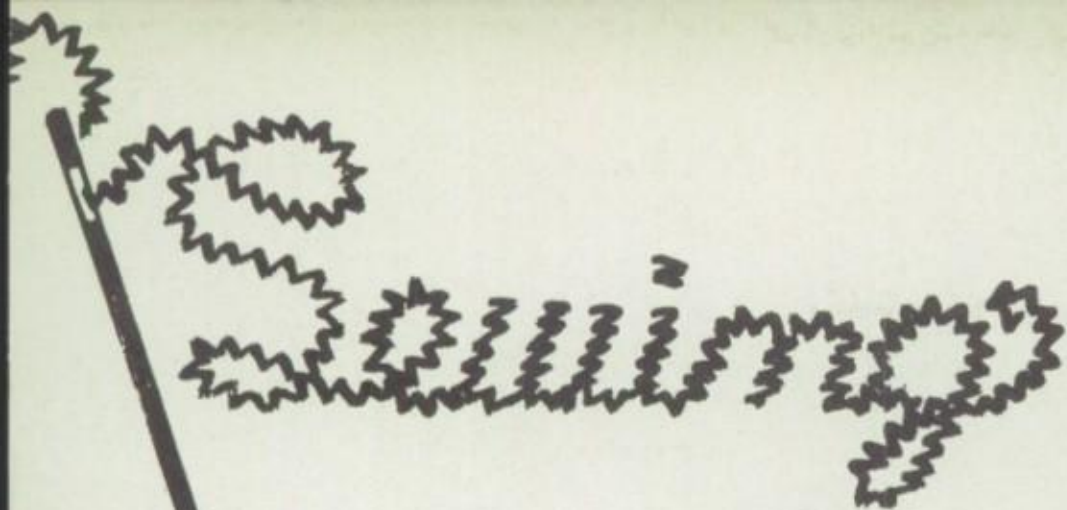

She's a good cook, too, fellows. Ruth Ann Kimmel is preparing a casserole dish in our beautiful electric range.

These future homemakers, Wilda Tate, Catherine Turek, Estelle Vennarre, Carol Thompson, Margaret Parris, and Rose Marie Kascak are carefully planning a meal for their families. They aim to insure family health and to stretch the family food-dollar.

This is the nicest part of all! Hostess Kathleen Wilson is serving the delicious meal to Arlene Shuff, Cathie Rounds, Marlene Prosser, and Antoinette Cosentino. Note the pleased smile on Kathleen's face, and the others' looks of anticipation.

Will "he" like Sandy's new jumper? Nancy Telshaw and Suzanne Brillhart think the answer is yes, as they watch Sandra Nordyke prepare for her big date.

This is a Pauline Spence creation.

Barbara Tillman models the "new look" for secretaries.

These girls make up Miss Marie McCahill's second period clothing class.

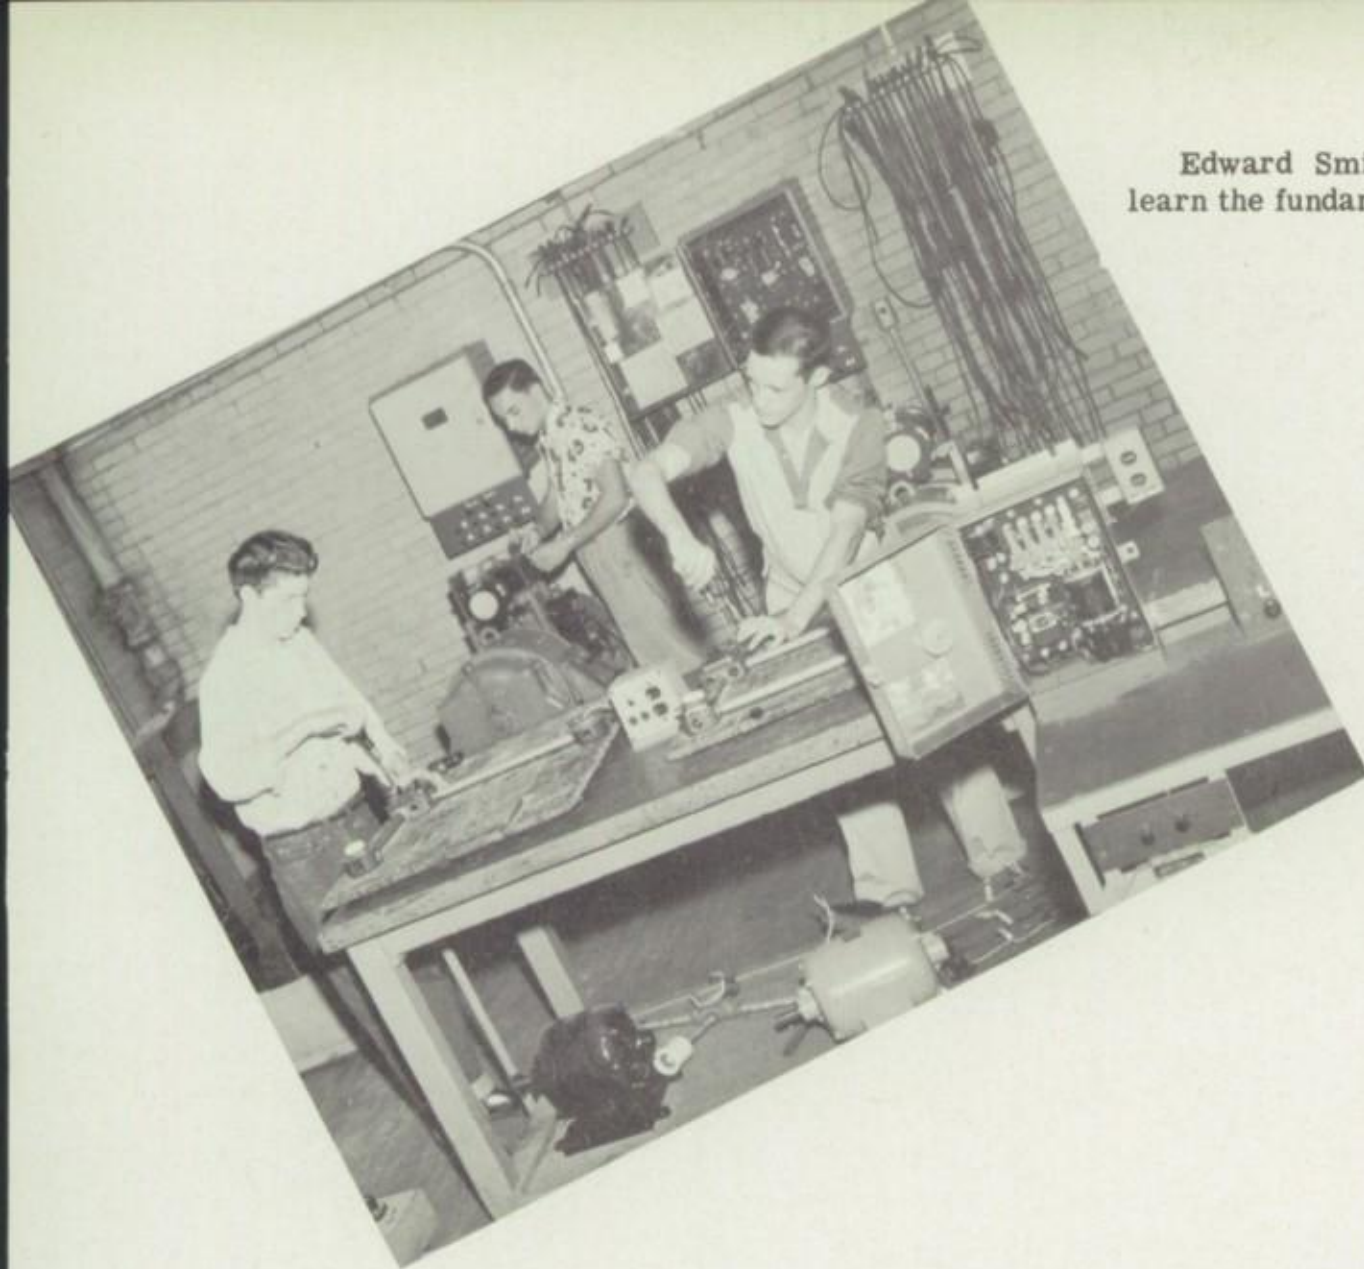

Under the guidance of Mr. Robert M. Fischer, John Price finishes another job, this time a book-stand. A second wood shop is taught by Mr. Stephen S. Salay.

Mr. Winkler demonstrates the workings of the automobile motor to prospective drivers of his Drivers' Education Club.

Edward Smith, Frank Pozzini, and Fred Conroy learn the fundamentals of electric wiring.

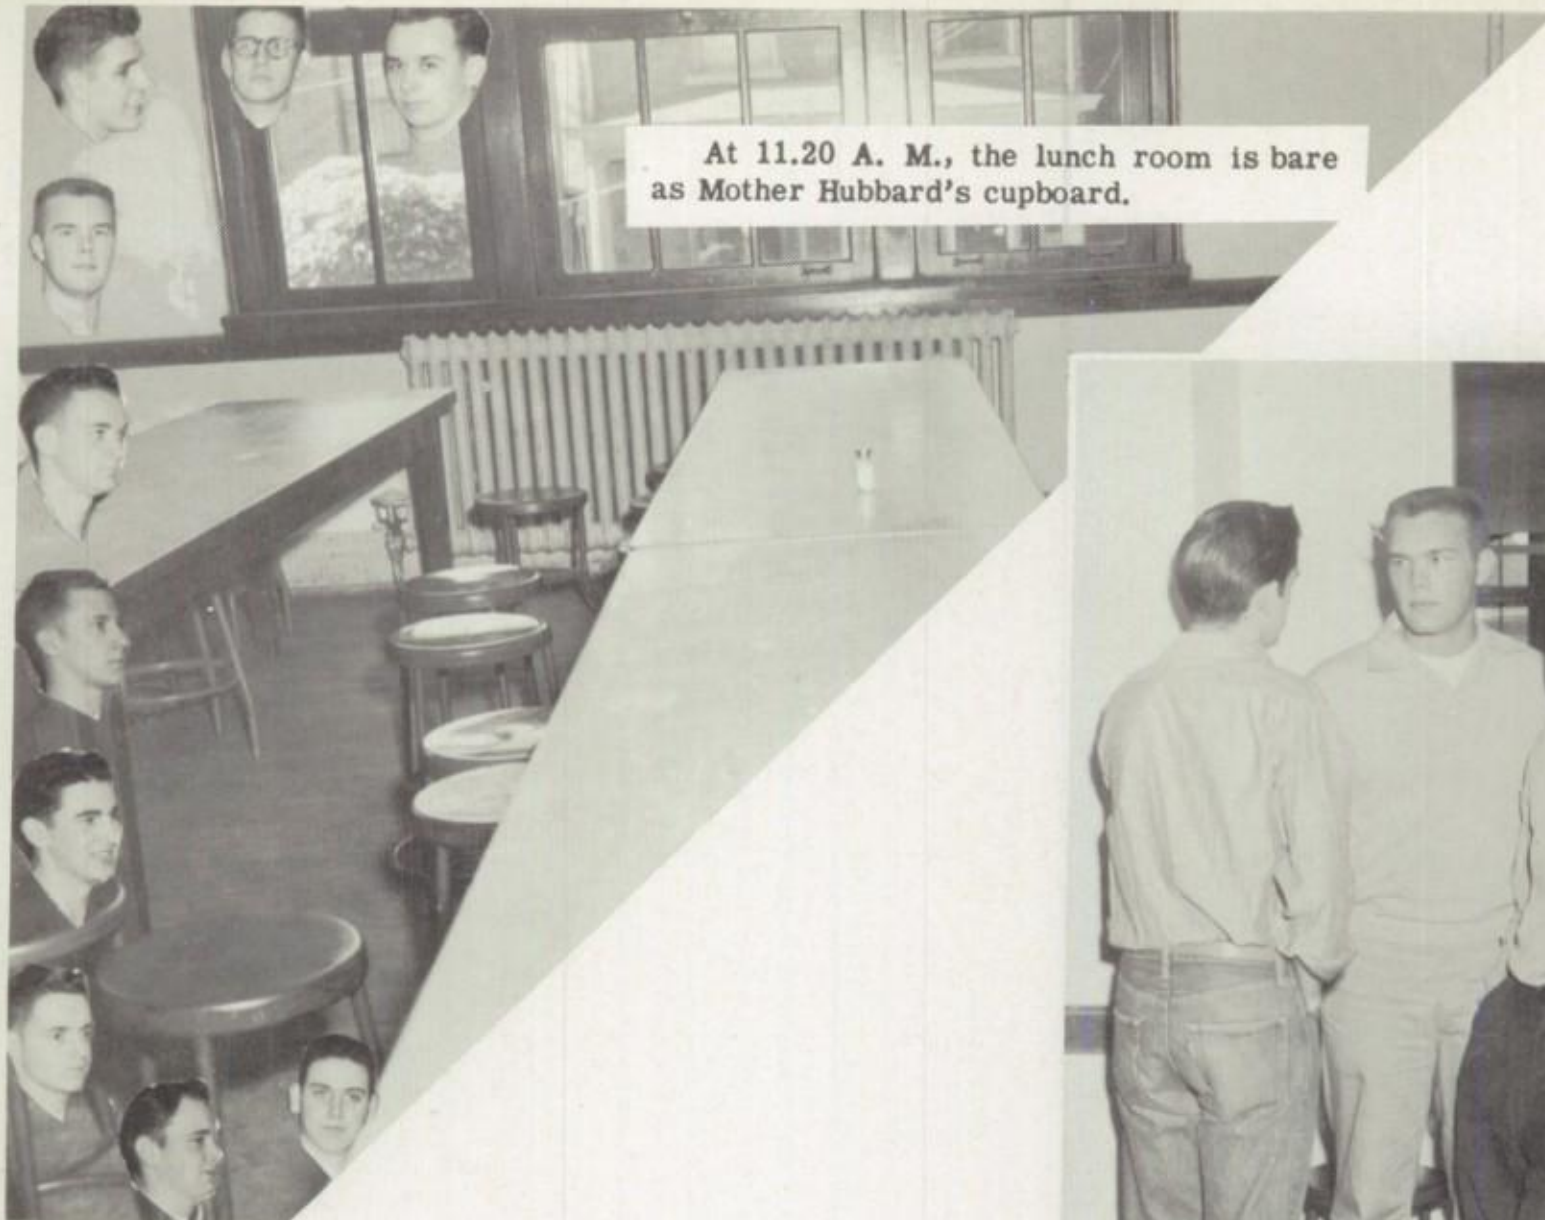

Ronald Staab, senior, makes a drawing of a crane. Other members of the advanced mechanical drawing class work on house plans. The subject is taught all four years.

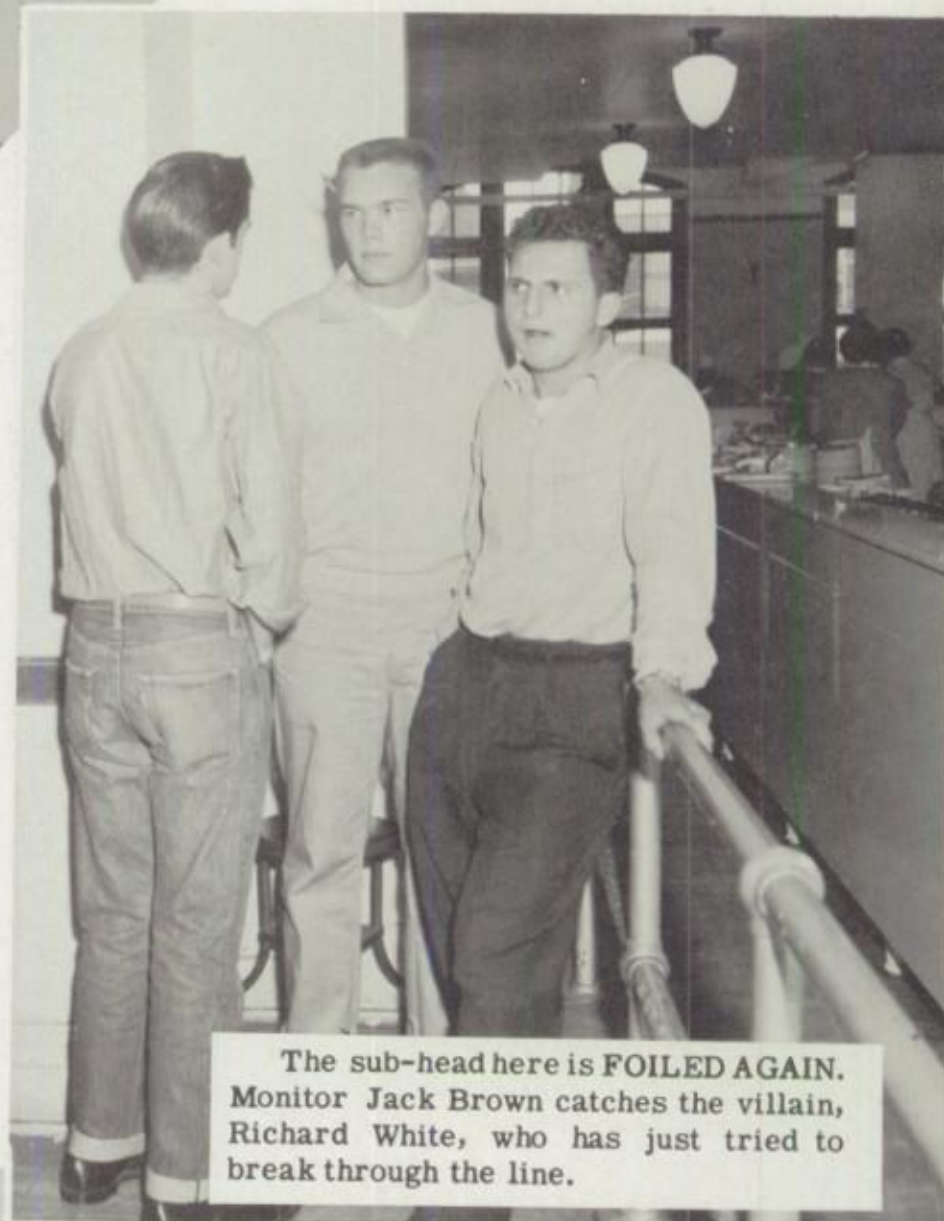

Bob Potts finishes welding a basketball hoop.

At 11.20 A. M., the lunch room is bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard.

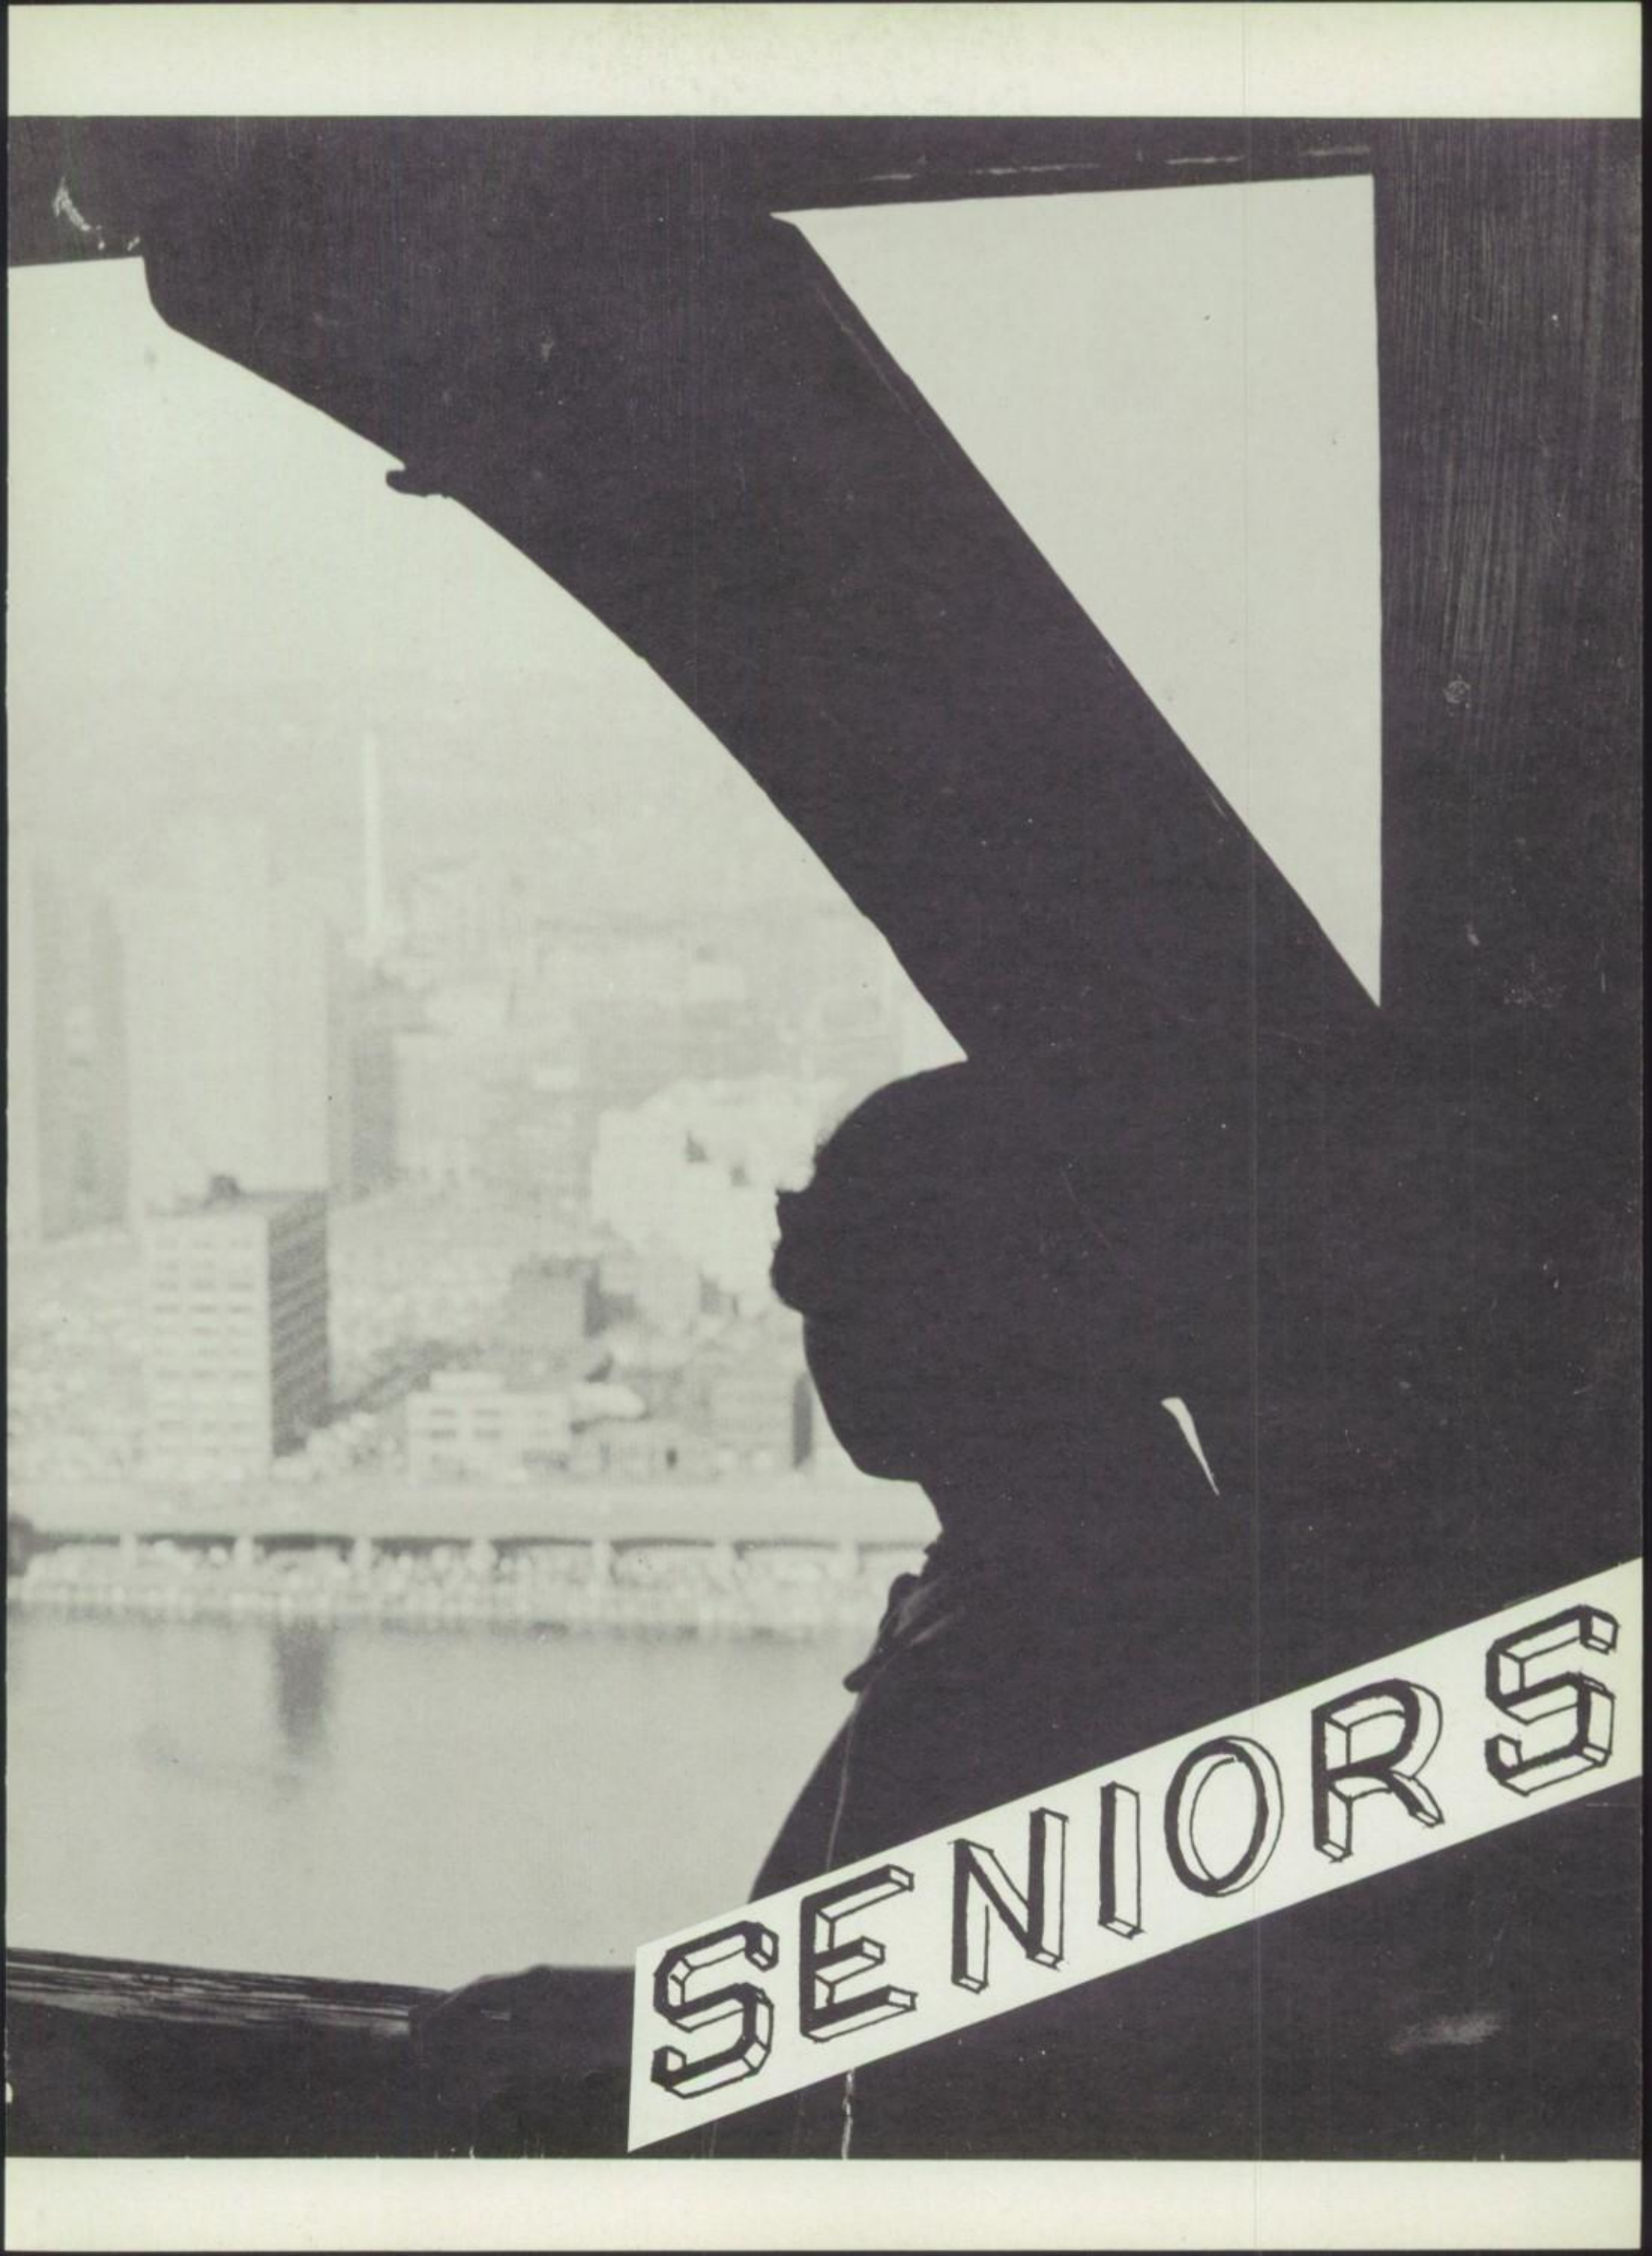

Noon Hour

The sub-head here is FOILED AGAIN. Monitor Jack Brown catches the villain, Richard White, who has just tried to break through the line.

11.25—Betwixt us all, we "lick the platter clean."

The February semester brought to 212 six new members of the yearbook staff: Beatrice Bertollini, Autumn Morphy, Erma Ginnevan, Louis Schurr, Jean Wilmouth, and Simon Barber. They can start planning now for the 1956 book.

South Hills handymen work on the set for the February senior play, "Sky High." Mr. Everett watches his boys: John Hirsch, Edward Glenn, Norman Elliott, Charles Adams, William Cesarow, Richard Dumont, John Waters, and Matthew Welsh.

The Library Committee perform the innumerable routine tasks that are ever present in a library. The sponsors of the group are Miss Lutton(right), the librarian, and her assistants, Mrs. Gunning and Mrs. Helmbold(left).

Mrs. Elsie Murphy sponsors the Future Teachers of America. Here the members discuss the pros and cons of a teaching career. (The ayes have it.)

When the team begins to lose hope, someone has to give both the team and the cheering section the spirit to "fight, fight, fight." It was not surprising, then, to see our cheerleaders cheering on to victory. Here they are: Lois Velan, Patti K  eley, Nancy Griffin, Leah Graham, Carol Feldman, Nancy Miller, Dolly LaCava, Sue Winkler, Joy Ruano, and Nancy Gallagher.

The Senior Prom

THE PROM

That magic eve, the twenty-sixth
The January snow came down,
But still in laughing groups we went,
Down Brownsville Road in tux and gown.

From nine till twelve, we swung, we swayed.
To Tommy Carlyn's band, for there
The waltzes, fox trots, mambos, all,
So rapturously filled the air.

At twelve o'clock we had to leave -
To find outside a glistening white
Matching the splendor of within,
On this most wonderful Prom night.

This loving pair departed in February. Vic Pugliano is the boy friend, and Ronald Corbett (Bulldog) is the neat chick.

STAGE

"The Wild One" comes to South Hills in the person of Carl Prince--at the Yearbook assembly.

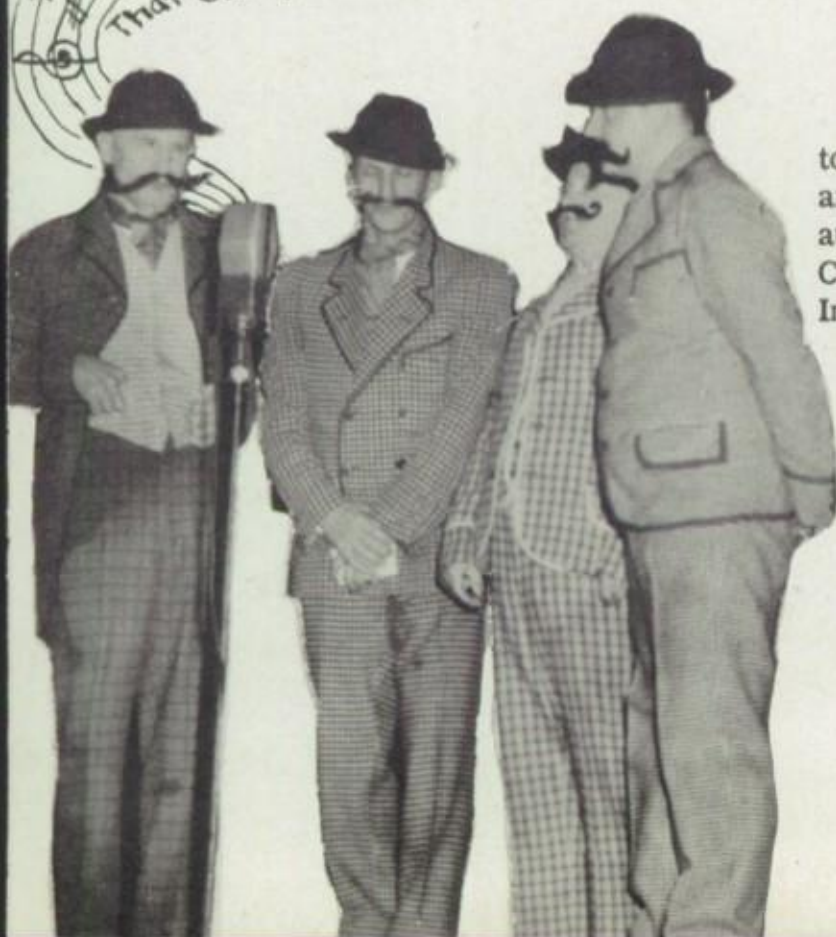

On our trip around the world we stopped off in France, To see the girls do the can-can dance.

Mr. Sandman (George Cinquergrane) brings the senior girls – Rosella Cafaro, Janet Phillips, Jean Wickman, Nancy Griffin, Dolly LaCava, Carol Schmidt, Jean Powers, and Nancy Tulenko – their dream. The dream is Ben Brenner.

DAZE

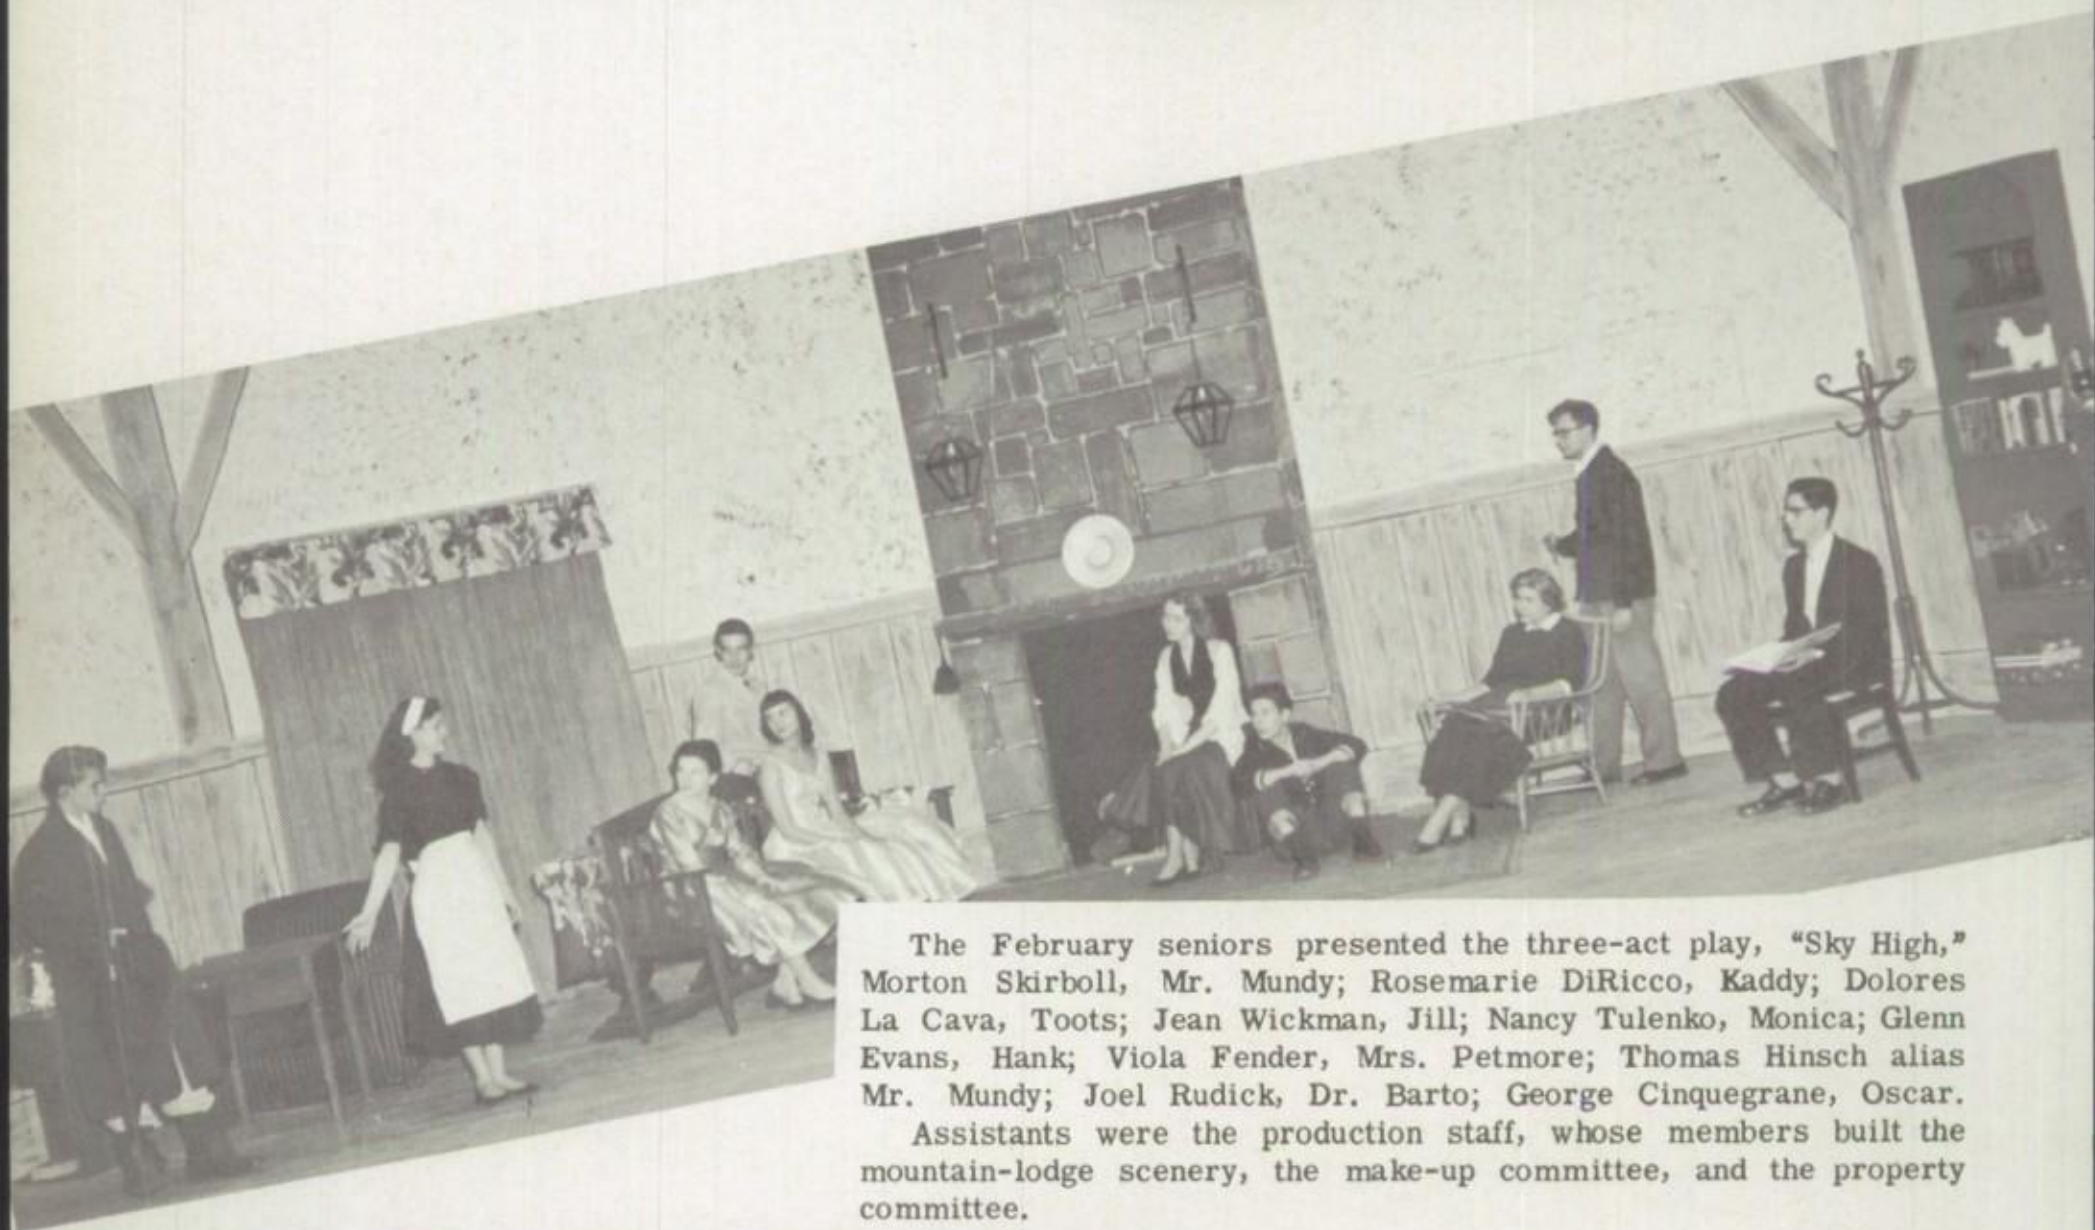

Meet the faculty quartette, the melodious tones of whose members captured the hearts and thrilled the ears of the Talent Show audience. They are, from left to right: Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Chuska, Mr. Glaser, and Mr. Inman.

Yes, we have intellects, too! Meet Abe Donato, top authority on "It's in the Book".

"Sky High"

All the thrills and chills of the play "Sky High" finally reached a climax in the capture of the criminals.

The February seniors presented the three-act play, "Sky High," Morton Skirboll, Mr. Mundy; Rosemarie DiRicco, Kaddy; Dolores La Cava, Toots; Jean Wickman, Jill; Nancy Tulenko, Monica; Glenn Evans, Hank; Viola Fender, Mrs. Petmore; Thomas Hinsch alias Mr. Mundy; Joel Rudick, Dr. Barto; George Cinquegrane, Oscar.

Assistants were the production staff, whose members built the mountain-lodge scenery, the make-up committee, and the property committee.

What they really look like before the curtain goes up!

"O, what a beautiful tree!" The gift under the tree this year amounted to $165. The S.C.A. members do the decorating.

The Hi-Y Club, under Mr. George, is affiliated with the Downtown Y.M.C.A. and follows the ideals of that organization.

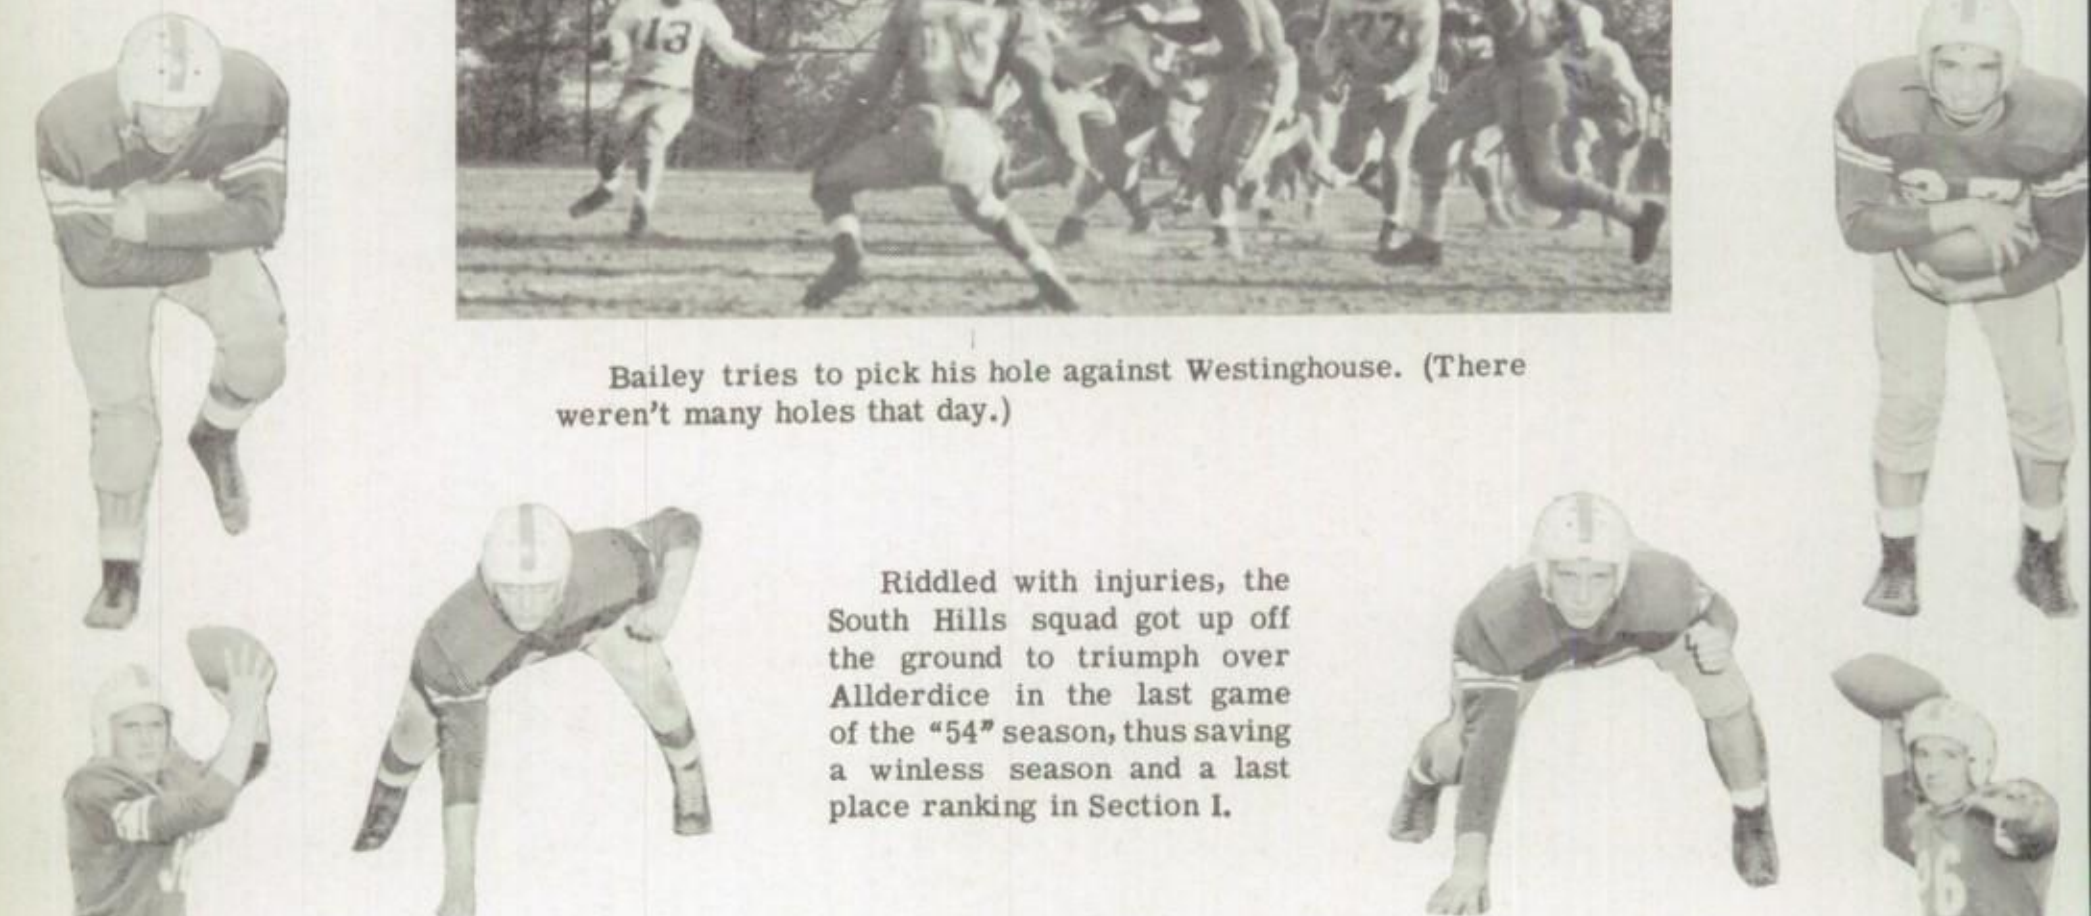

The Junior Classical League, a chapter of a larger organization of that name, is building a Roman house for the Latin Festival at the Buhl Planetarium. Mrs. Thompson is the sponsor.

ATHLETICS

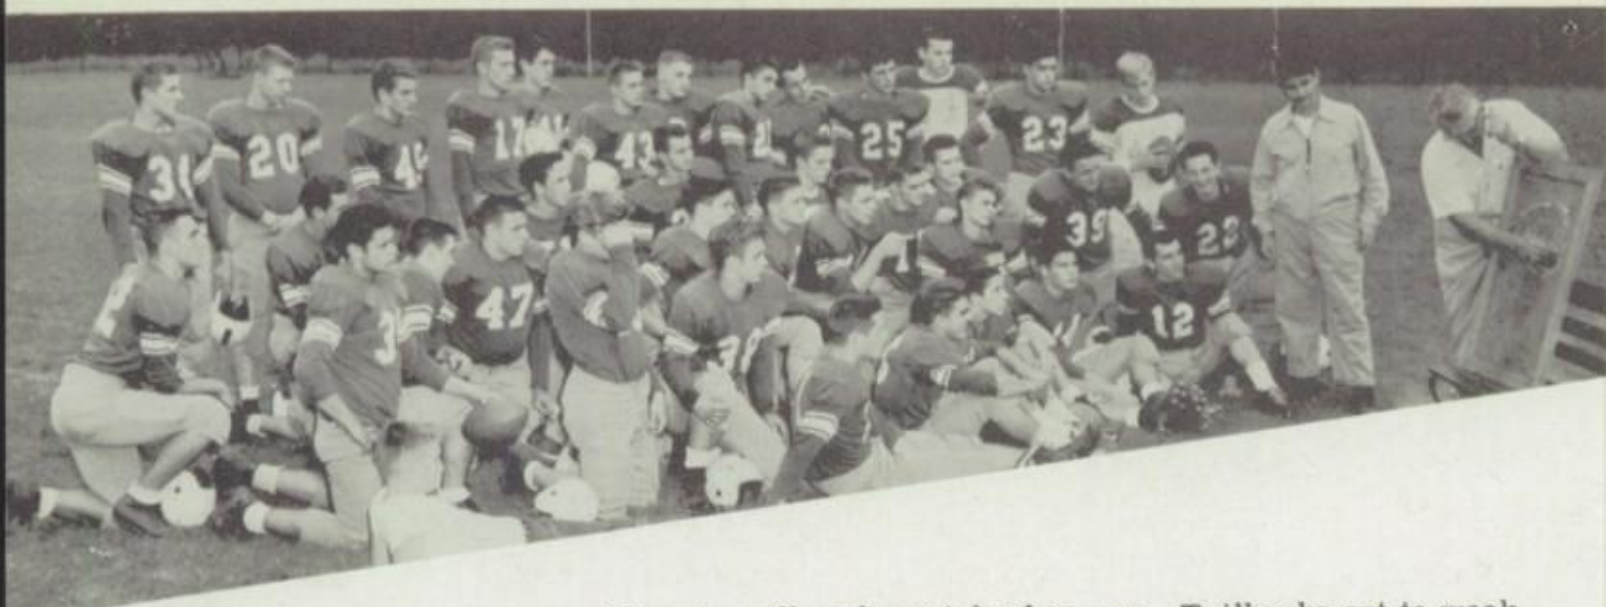

Bailey tries to pick his hole against Westinghouse. (There weren't many holes that day.)

Riddled with injuries, the South Hills squad got up off the ground to triumph over Allderdice in the last game of the "54" season, thus saving a winless season and a last place ranking in Section I.

Kane evades Peabody tacklers for short yardage.

"Guards pull, take out backer-ups. Tailbacks cut to weak side after you're through the hole. Wingbacks go in motion, act as decoys." And you thought class work was tough.

Track

The South Hills 1954 track season was a fair one. Under Coach J. Reed Wehrle, the Tunnelites took fourth place among ten schools competing in the City Championship Meet. The first three were Carrick, Allderdice, and Schenley.

The hero of the occasion was Bill Morrow, who broke the standing mile record of 4' 34.9" by two-tenths of a second and won a gold medal. Bronze-Medal winners were Clowney in the 440-yard dash and the four contestants in the mile relay - Noah, Kane, Yeschke, and Schisler.

Three South Hills boys qualified for the Penn State Meet: Clowney in the 440, Werlink in the pole vault, and Morrow in the mile.

Mark Schisler is high scorer of the season.

Bill Morrow crosses the finish line to place second in the city cross country meet.

Cross Country

The 1954 South Hills cross country team won third place in the city league despite the fact that one member was injured during the height of the season.

The meet was held in Schenley Park, October 28, where 57 contestants from Allderdice, Langley, Perry, and South Hills ran the required 2 1/2 mile course.

Team and Place:

William Morrow	3
James Garman	12
Nicholas St. George	13
Donald Davies	21
Terry Schoener	29

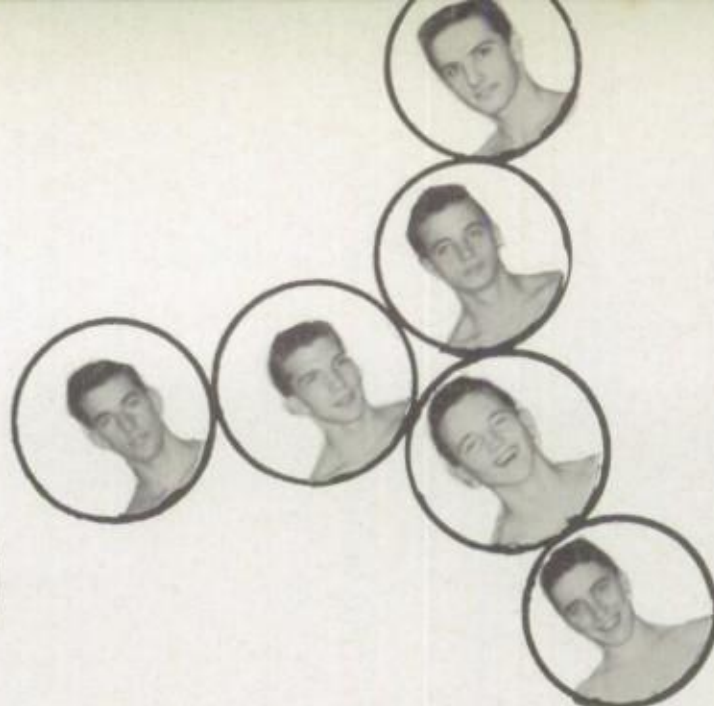

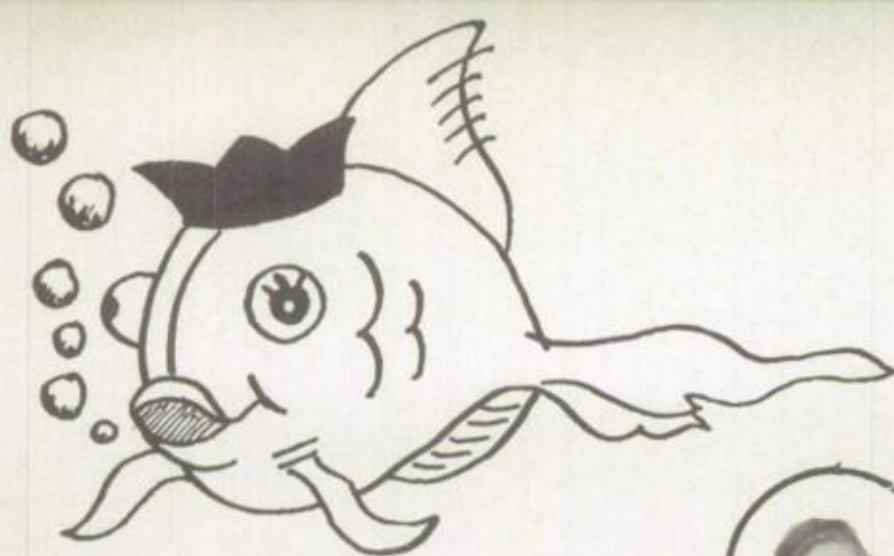

Jim Garman makes a good showing his first year on the team. He places twelfth.

For the first time in several years, South Hills was represented in the city tennis championship last spring. The squad included Jack Thomas of the singles team and Jack Brown and James Wallace of the doubles. Allderdice was the winner, its players going to Penn State to play in the state-wide competition.

With a few new members, this year's mer-men, in defeating Schenley 39 to 36, splashed their way through league competition to become the 1955 City Championship team.

LAST SPLASH

J. Grant, C. Prince, D. Young, C. Ziegler, K. Wagner, R. Forsburg.

These senior boys are leaving in June. Forecasters predict, however, next year's team will be as strong as this.

Exercises are a year-round activity in the girls' gym. In the picture above, Dolores Rainey and a companion demonstrate their skill in calisthenics.

The fourth-period swimming class practice the vertical float.

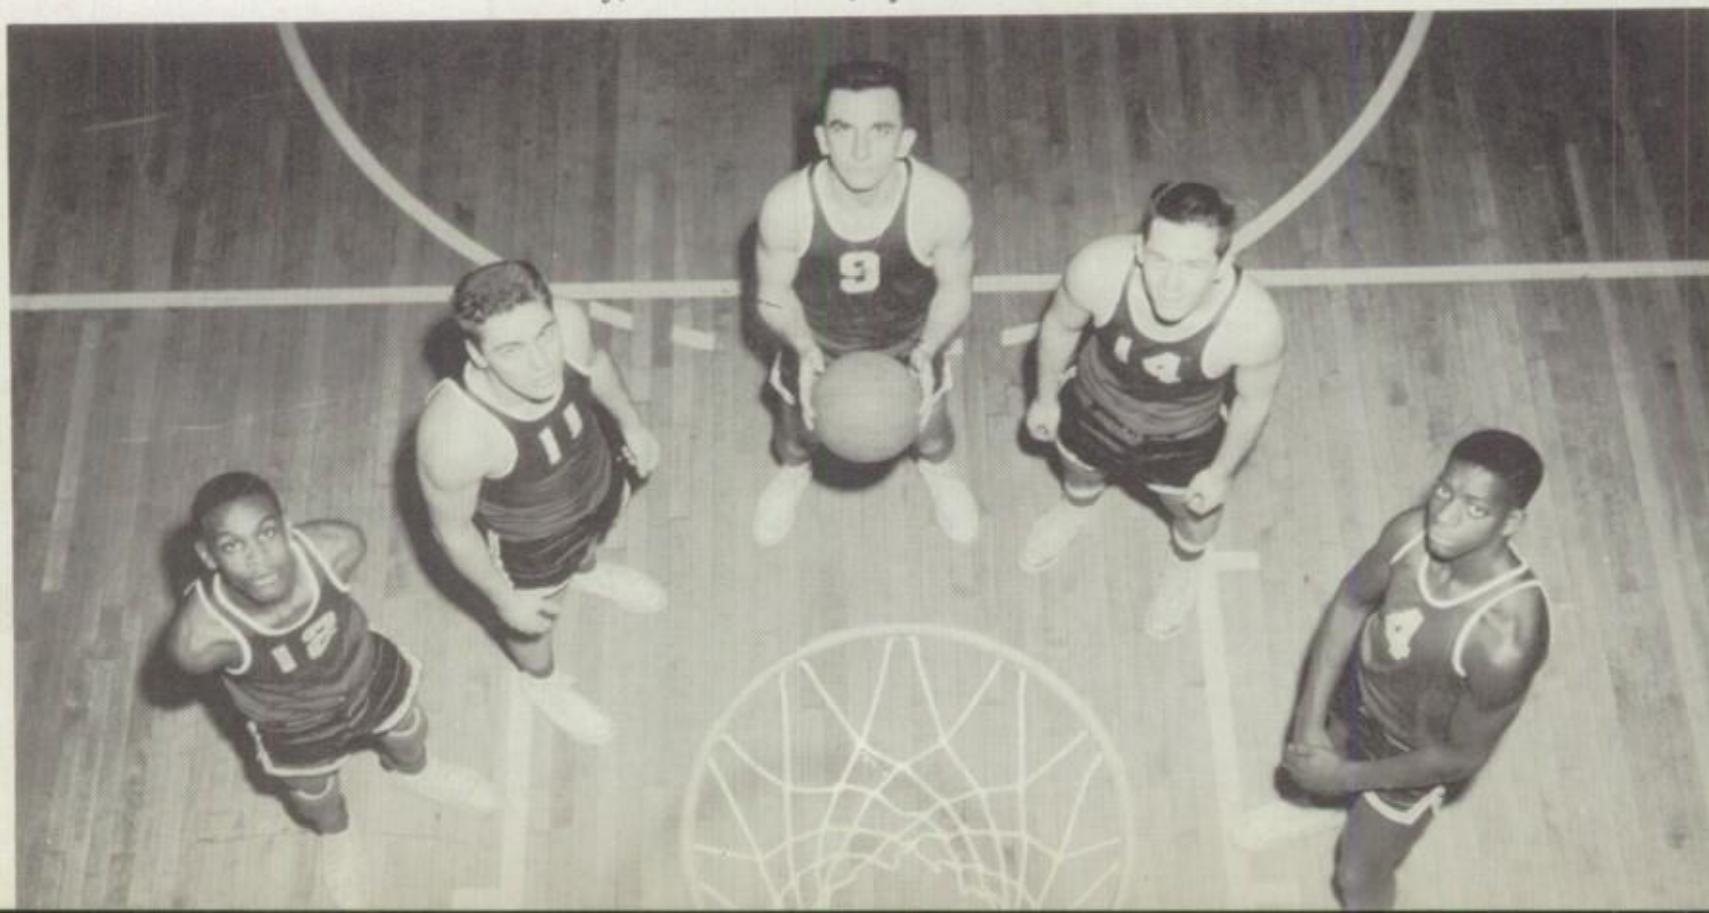

Girl's Gym

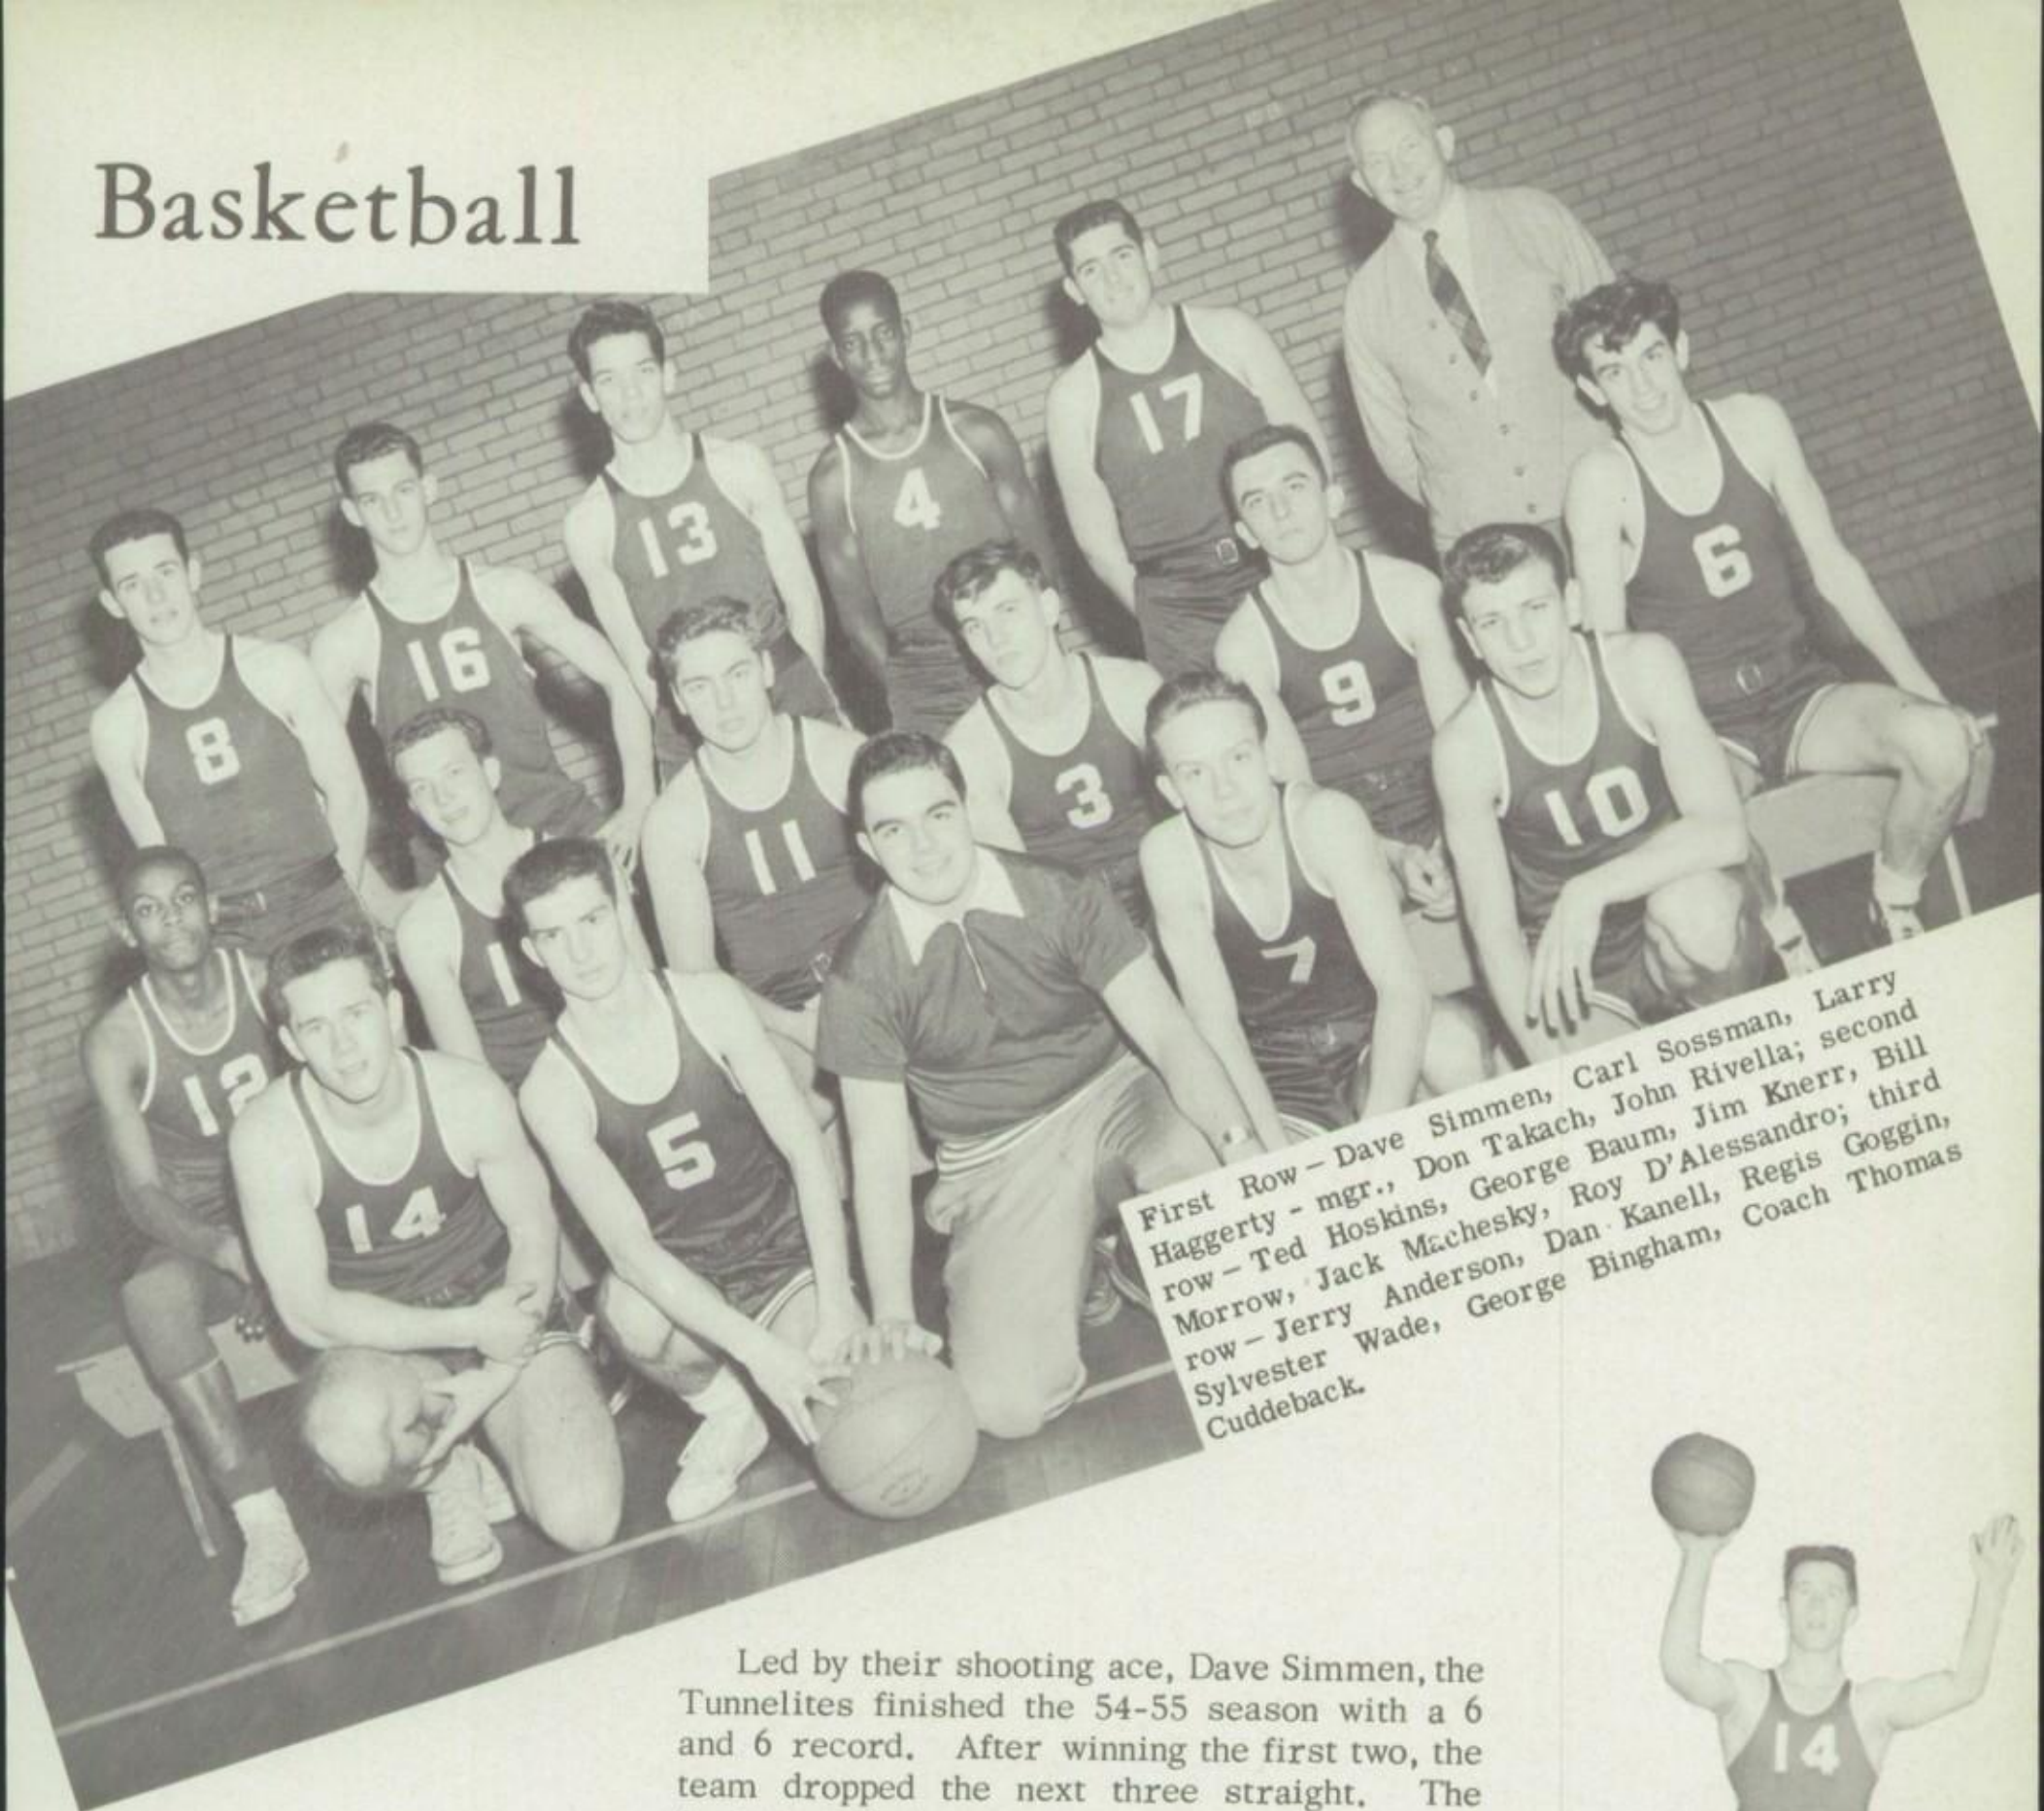

The program of girls' sports includes after-school tournaments. The above girls are the All-Stars chosen in the basketball tournament winners - Roden, captain, Schrenk, Ginnevan, Agnew, Ring, Vitulli, Robertson; teams tied - Griffin, captain, Turek, S. Johnson, Murphy, Stoltz, Osborne, Ganster; Snyder, captain, Amolini, Beckert, Christian, Hughes, Ison, I. Johnson; Morgan, captain, Boehm, Bradley, Marino, May, Browell, Tillman.

The Ferocious Five - Ted Hoskins, Jim Knerr, Jack Machesky, Dave Simmen, Sylvester Wade.

Basketball

Led by their shooting ace, Dave Simmen, the Tunnelites finished the 54-55 season with a 6 and 6 record. After winning the first two, the team dropped the next three straight. The first two of these games were at home. These two losses at home put the team into a tailspin, from which they never quite pulled out. The rest of the season was high-lighted only by the sharp shooting of Simmen, who is the Tunnelites' candidate for the all-city team.

Albert (Bunny) Mancuso (LF): southpaw slugger and swift outfielder.

The 1954 baseball season ended by being a magic one for Coach E. J. Mazeski and his diamond proteges. Led by senior captain James Dunlap, the Hillmen marched victoriously to the section title and then to the league championship.

Falling victims to the Airshafter's' onslaught of victories in Section 1 were Langley, Oliver, Allegheny, and South High Schools. All these teams except South suffered double defeat at the hands of the Airshafter's. The Southsiders caught the South Hills team on its only "off-day" of the regular season.

In the championship series, South Hills brought the cup home by seizing two out of three games from previously undefeated Schenley, Section 11 victors. Schenley won the first game 5 to 1; South Hills romped home with the last two games 4 to 2 and 4 to 0.

Some fine pitching by John Mirabelli and Bob Gecoma and excellent all-round play by the whole squad contributed to this most successful season.

James Dunlap (SS): captain, power hitter, reliable fielder.

Carl Bahneman (3B): keystone corner man and consistent hitter.

Bob Gecoma (P): "Rapid Robert" with a steaming fast ball, good curve, breaking knuckler.

George Cinquegrane (CF): handy man with bat, pep dispenser.

Jim Kelly (RF): clutch hitter, morale builder, and good fielder.

Mark Moore (2B): lead-off batter and fast man on the base paths.

Don Takach (1B): steady team player, always alert.

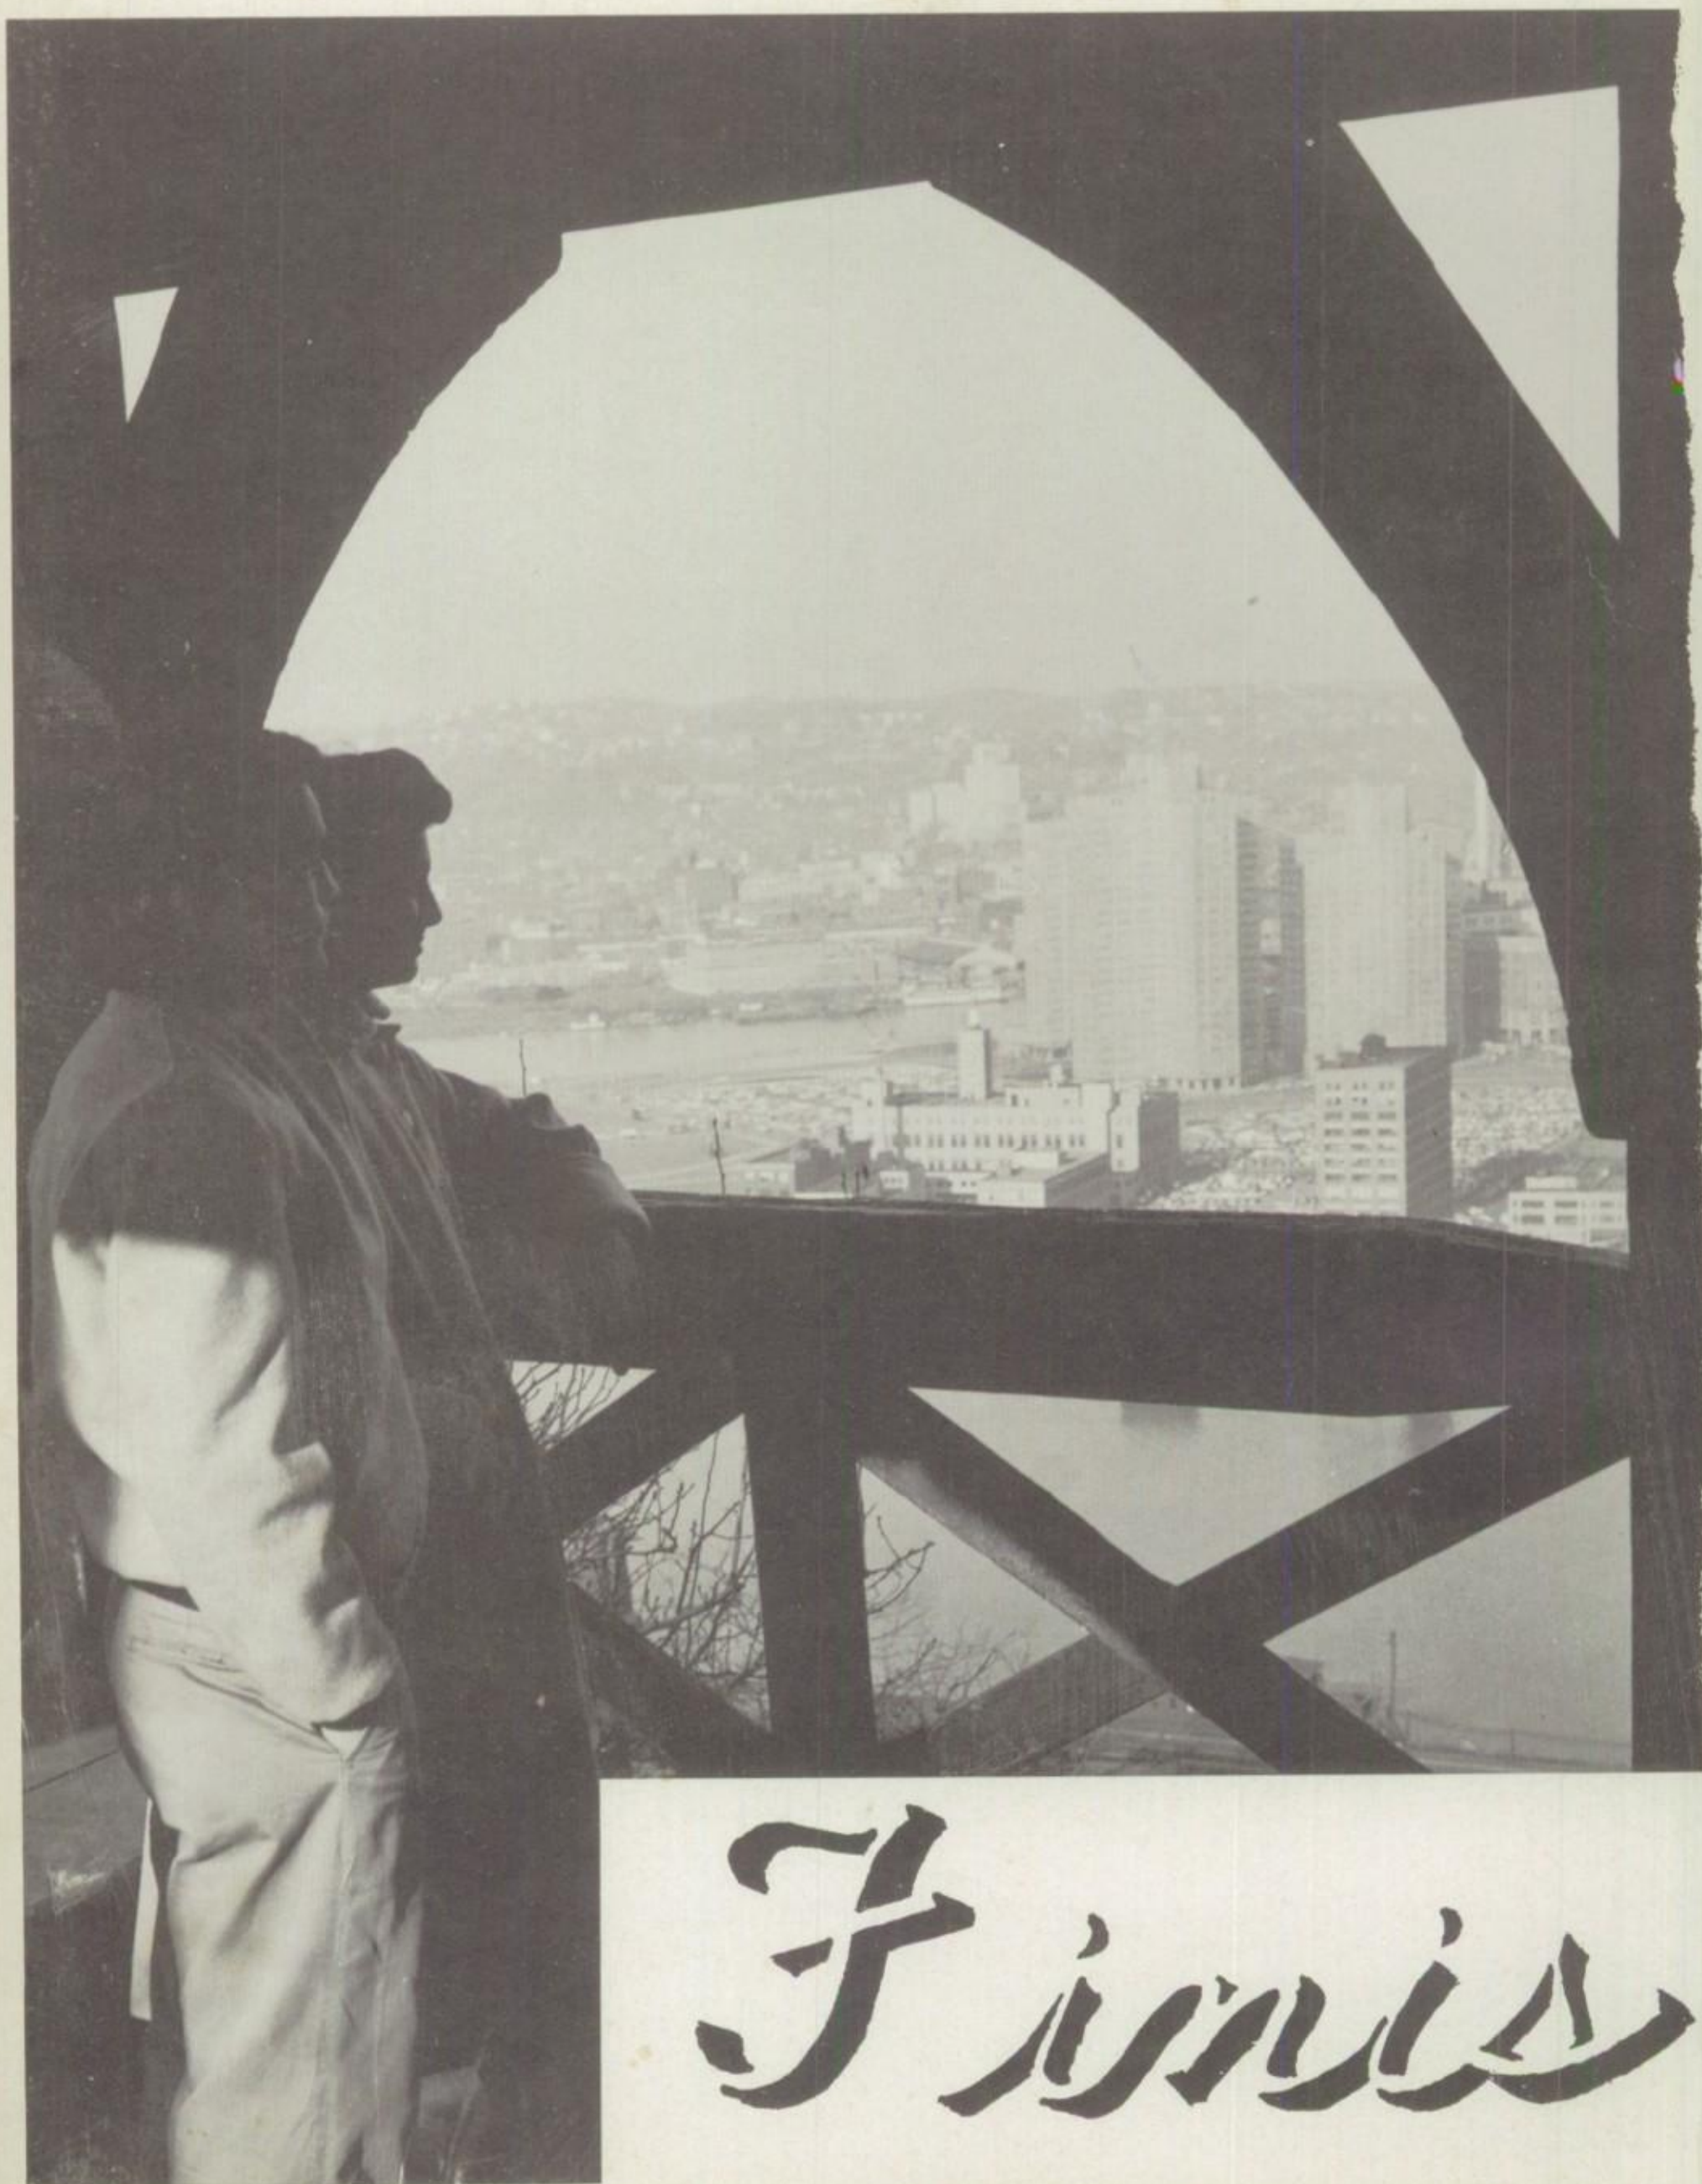

John Mirabelli (P): one of the mainstays of the pitching staff.

Joe DiCarlo (C): the "Yogi Berra" of S. H. H. S. and field general.
